MRS. COREY IN TEARS WHEN GIVEN DIVORCE FROM HER HUSBAND

Wife of Steel Trust President Weeps When She Wins Suit in Nevada.

ATTACK MADE ON COREY BY HIS OWN SISTER

Miss Addie Corey Appears for Wife and Says Her Brother Is Not Fit To Have the Children. Mrs. Corey Talks About Her Husband.

Reno, Nev., July 30.—Mrs. William Ellis Corey, wife of the president of the United States Steel Corporation, was awarded a divorce in the second district court of Nevada, sitting at Reno, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The case was submitted without argument, and the jury took but one ballot. It was out but a few minutes.

Mrs. Corey was in tears when told that she had been given a decree and the custody of her 16-year-old son, Allan Corey. She drove at once to her home on Riverside avenue, where she says she will continue to reside. No evidence was submitted by the defense, and there was no argument.

The question of alimony was not introduced. Mrs. Corey made an interesting admission, however, touching upon this phase of the case, stating that in May, 1906, several weeks before her petition for divorce was filed, she negotiated through her attorneys a financial settlement with her husband. She was not asked what the nature of this settlement was.

Wife's Statement.

"I am a resident of Reno, Nev.," said Mrs. Corey when placed on the stand, "and the wife of William Ellis Corey, the defendant in this action. We were married on December 1, 1883, at Pittsburg, Pa., and lived together until May 1, 1905. At that time my husband deserted me and went to New York. I followed him and held a conversation with him in the Hotel Lorrain. It was there that he told me that he had decided to live apart. He said that it was impossible for us to live happily together and that I would never see him again. He stated that he intended going to Europe for several months. There was no scene. I talked with him about the matter and urged him to again resume his place in our home, but he refused. I have never seen him since."

Mrs. Corey added that she came to Reno for her health, and that she had no intension of bringing an action for divorce at the time she took up her residence.

HOKE WORRIED BY DEMOCRATS

He Finds Too Many of the Organized Kind.

He Tells Fayette Voters That He Wants Fewer Organized and More of the Tom Watson's Sort. State Officers Attacked.

Fayetteville, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Hoke Smith spoke here today in the interest of his candidacy for the governorship. His address was along the usual lines.

He was especially severe in his criticism of the democratic executive committee, the railroad commissioners and other state officials.

Referring to Tom Watson, Smith said he was glad to have the support of the populist.

"I would like," said Mr. Smith, "to have fewer organized democrats and more Jeffersonian democrats."

Hoke Smith at Jonesboro.

Jonesboro, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—At 10 o'clock today Hoke Smith, candidate for governor, addressed the people of Jonesboro and Clayton county in the interest of his candidacy for governor. His speech was along the usual lines. He devoted more time to the discussion of the disfranchisement of the negro than to any other issue. There were supporters of Russell and Howell to be seen in all parts of the audience. Judge W. L. Watterson presided and Hon. A. C. Blalock introduced Mr. Smith. At 1 o'clock Mr. Smith, the brass band he brought with him from Atlanta and a few supporters left for Fayetteville, where he spoke at 2:30 o'clock.

SENT CHALLENGE TO WATSON.

Socialists Want Him to Meet Osborne in Joint Debate.

Augusta, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—After consultation of the several socialist candidates, here tonight, the following telegram was sent to Thomas E. Watson:

"You are hereby challenged to meet the socialist candidate for governor, J. B. Osborne, in joint debate Wednesday, August 1, at 8 p. m., at the court, at Augusta, Ga., to defend your attitude in regard to socialism. By order of the state executive committee socialist party.

HOWELL ADDS RABUN COUNTY TO HIS COLUMN

Hundreds of Approving Voters Hear Democratic Candidate at Clayton.

COMPAIGN OF FRAUD HAS RUN ITS COURSE

And Voters Are Ranging Themselves in Opposition to the Dangerous Schemes of Hoke Smith and His Ally, Tom Watson.

By FRED LEWIS.

Clayton, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Clark Howell's friends and supporters here have practically solidified Rabun county for him, and that it will go for him in the coming primary is settled almost beyond a doubt.

The reception given Mr. Howell at Clayton today gave further evidence of the fact that his strength in the county has grown to such extent that Rabun is now ready to be counted in the Howell column.

The best men of the mountains came here today from every section of this county to meet Mr. Howell and to hear his address.

Changing for Howell.

"I have never seen such a change of sentiment in any community as has taken place here within the last few weeks," remarked a well known citizen of Clayton. "The truth about the matter is, it is now difficult to find anything but Howell men in the county."

The reception and greeting given Mr. Howell here today bore evidence to the truth of his assertion. Among the leading citizens of the county all strong and ardent supporters of his, who met Mr. Howell here today were: J. F. Philyew, farmer; F. D. Singleton, clerk superior court; C. E. Cannon, merchant; J. W. Green, county treasurer; J. H. Coffee, farmer; Judge M. H. Jamesordinary; T. E. Carver, sheriff; W. M. Smith, merchant; Nelson Tilley, merchant; W. H. Duncan, hotel proprietor; J. C. Green, merchant; T. N. McConnell, farmer; Thomas Hamby, merchant; Thomas Martin, farmer; Dr. W. J. Green; H. C. Blalock, merchant; I. N. Foster, real estate, J. B. Dockins, farmer; W. C. Scruggs, farmer; J. C. Pickett, farmer; G. I. Langston, hotel proprietor, and many others of like standing in the community.

Howell Made Many Friends.

"Mr. Howell has made many friends here today," said Mr. Dockins, and the statement was indorsed by other prominent Rabun county citizens, "and if there was ever any doubt about his carrying the county, there is certainly none today."

Every district in the county was well represented in the gathering here today, all the way from Tallulah Falls to the North Carolina line. The court room was literally crowded at 12 o'clock, the hour at which Mr. Howell began his address. It was by common consent the largest political gathering held in the county in years, and on every hand it was stated that more than twice as many people were in the audience as heard Hoke Smith, who spoke here one of the court weeks. In fact it was commented upon generally that no candidate for governor during the campaign had received anything like the ovation and reception given Mr. Howell today. The best feature of all was it was a Howell audience throughout, free and liberal in its applause and approval of Mr. Howell's attitude on the public questions of the day—particularly as to his opposition to the proposed disfranchisement legislation, against which the people of Rabun are almost solidly united.

Mr. Howell was presented to his audience by H. C. Blalock, a prominent and leading merchant of Burton, Clayton county.

Blalock's Tribute to Howell.

"We are all interested in good government," Mr. Blalock said, "and we are interested in the election of good officers. It is our duty to look well to the records of those who offer for the high office of governor and for other positions in the gift of the people. I am going to introduce to you today a candidate, who as legislator and newspaper man, has been before you for the last twenty years. His record is long and broad and wide; it is a record which has never yet been successfully impeached by all the skill of his opponents. There never has appeared before you a candidate for governor with a record so unimpeachable as his, for he has consistently and always been on the side of the people."

Among other things, Mr. Blalock said: "Clark Howell, at least, never found it necessary to appeal to the civil service system for the purpose of dodging his record." (Applause.)

Mr. Howell was received with warm and generous applause as he arose to address his audience. That he was the favorite with the Rabun county people there could be no doubt.

Referring to the cry of "Ring," a myth with which Hoke Smith has sought to stir up the passions and prejudices of the people, Mr. Howell said:

"The only ring to which I belong or have ever belonged is the democratic organization of the state of Georgia, and in that ring I have been associated with 150,000 citizens of Georgia who have always given the democratic party and its principles their earnest and loyal support." (Applause.)

Hearers Impressed by Howell.

The people of Rabun county were deeply impressed with Mr. Howell's clear and

PARSON JUSTIFIES NOAH'S FALL OFF WATER WAGON

OCEAN GROVE, N. J., July 30—The liquor traffic and Christians who do not vote the prohibition ticket were criticized yesterday in the services held under the auspices of the National Temperance Society. Bishop James N. Fitzgerald, of St. Louis, said there would be no saloons in America if American church members voted as they prayed. Rev. Dr. James M. Farrar, of the First Reformed church, in Brooklyn, said Noah was one of the first men mentioned in history to stumble through drunkenness. The ark builder, though, had an excuse for falling, he added, for if there ever was a man who must have been tired of water, that man must have been Noah. The evening sermon was preached by Dr. David J. Burrell, pastor of the Marble Collegiate church, of New York.

WOMAN, AGED 112, LIVED ON COFFEE-BREAD DIET

LAPORTE, IND., July 30.—Mrs. Ferdinand Reese, the oldest woman in Indiana and perhaps in the United States, died here today, aged 112 years. According to documents in her possession, she was born in Volgravitz, Poland, in 1794, and after marrying and burying two husbands in Poland, came to America in 1870, settling at Buffalo, N. Y., where she married Ferdinand Reese. On her deathbed she recalled vividly the circumstances of Napoleon's visit to Volgravitz, which he devastated. She attributed her long life to her simple method of living, eating two meals of cornbread and black coffee daily.

NO HEARSE LARGE ENOUGH FOR CASKET OF FAT MAN

ANDERSON, IND., July 30.—Five thousand were attracted to Anderson cemetery yesterday by the burial of Joseph Rodecap, a farmer, and the heaviest man in Madison county. Mr. Rodecap weighed 460 pounds. His coffin was 3 feet wide, 28 inches deep and 7 feet long.

No hearse would carry the casket because of its size and a wagon was used as a funeral car. Ten men were required to carry the coffin and sixteen men to lower it into the grave. Mr. Rodecap died of cerebral embolism. He was 51 years of age.

ALLEGED SLAVE GIVES EVIDENCE

Men Charged With Peonage Surrender at Pensacola.

Trial Begins—New Yorker Claiming To Be Victim Declares He Was Hunted Down with Bloodhounds and Lashed with Raw Hide.

Pensacola, Fla., July 30.—The preliminary trial of Robert Gallagher, wood superintendent, and J. Porter, bookkeeper for the Jackson Lumber Company at Lockhart, Ala., on the charge of peonage, was begun this morning before United States Commissioner Marh, the men having surrendered themselves to the federal officers this morning in accordance with promises. Six witnesses were heard, all of whom testified to the cruel and inhuman treatment accorded those who incurred the displeasure of the bosses at the camp.

Harry Lyman, of New York, made oath that he had been given twenty lashes with a raw hide for attempting to get away after having been run down with blood hounds and then given an additional twenty because he would not plead for mercy.

The hearing will be resumed tomorrow.

VAUDEVILLE ACTOR KILLED.

Houston, Texas, July 30.—Walter Dudley Hightower, vaudeville actor, whose home is said to be in New Orleans, was tonight shot and fatally wounded by C. A. Lowendoski, a special policeman. A friend of Hightower's had an altercation with the officer and Hightower went to his assistance. The policeman reached for his revolver and, it is alleged, shot Hightower as he was running away. He died on his way to the hospital.

Lowendoski was arrested and claims that he acted in self defense in shooting Hightower.

TREATY UNLOCKS SING SING DOORS

Alleged Defrauder Granted Writ of Habeas Corpus.

Charles C. Browne, Extradited From Canada on One Charge and Imprisoned on Another, Involves Violations of Treaty With Great Britain.

New York, July 30.—Judge Hough, in the United States circuit court, today, granted a writ of habeas corpus, directing Warden Johnson, of Sing Sing prison, to bring into court, on August 7 next, Charles C. Browne, the former employee in the customs service in this city who was extradited in Montreal and taken by United States Marshal Henkle to Sing Sing last week. Browne was convicted in March, 1904, and sentenced to serve two years in prison for alleged conspiracy to defraud the government. He jumped his bail bond and fled to Canada. The Canadian government refused extradition on the conspiracy charge but extradited Browne on an amended charge of being a fugitive from justice. Browne was taken from Montreal direct to Sing Sing to begin his term. His counsel in making application for the writ of habeas corpus, cited a passage from the treaty between the United States and Great Britain, which read:

"No person surrendered by either of the high contracting parties shall be triable or tried, for any crime or offense committed previous to his extradition other than the offense for which he surrendered, until he shall have had an opportunity to return to the country from which he was surrendered."

Colonel Anderson Resigns.

Richmond, Va., July 30.—Colonel George Wayne Anderson, commanding the Seventeenth regiment of Virginia, state troops, has sent his resignation of that office to the governor, desiring to devote himself exclusively to his profession as a lawyer.

MEN ARE WANTED WHO WILL SHOOT

New Qualification for the Civil Service.

Examinations for Positions in the Internal Revenue Service Must Be Marksmen Who Will Use th eGun When Necessary.

Washington, July 30.—(Special.)—Marksmanship, calmness in time of danger, and native resourcefulness, are qualities which the civil service commission holds at a premuim. In examinations to be held at Asheville, Charlotte, Statesville, Salisbury and Louiston, N. C., on August 29, for positions in the internal revenue service the militant qualities enumerated above will under the general head of "experience and training," count as much in the test of candidates for field deputies as spelling, arithmetic, and report writing. Ex-soldiers and scouts of the regular army are desired. Field deputies are the officers who have to raid moonshine stills and round up generally desperate characters engaged in crime against the revenue laws.

The Asheville district was recently brought under the civil service, by order of the president, because some of the officers had been detected in swindling the government.

The examinations are the first where the accomplishment of good gunplay is advertised for. The commission acknowledges that that with honesty, is what they seek under the head of "training and experience."

COMING TO MAKE COMPLAINT.

Committee from Isle of Pines on Their Way To Washington.

New Orleans, July 30.—Bearing complaints about alleged ill treatment of Americans on the Isle of Pines, a committee of two from that island arrived tonight at Mississippi river quarrantine station on their way to Washington to lay their complaints before the state department.

One complaint says that a lumberman, whose home was formerly in Wisconsin, was recently haled before a justice and fined because he filled a hole in a public road in front of his house.

Another subject of complaint is the alleged ill treatment of Miss Millie J. Brown, the American girl who was recently released from prison by order of President Palma, after she had been convicted of violating a law regulating telegraphs.

An appeal to the United States for annexation is among the documents in possession of the committee, which consists of Captain Miller, of Chicago, who operates a steamboat line between the Isle of Pines and Cuba, and Mr. Sims, a Michigan man, with timber interests in the latter island. Their steamer will not be released from quarantine and allowed to proceed to dock at New Orleans until Wednesday.

ROOSEVELT WILL NOT RUN.

Declares Again He Will Not Accept Candidacy Next Year.

Peoria, Ills., July 30.—A positive announcement from President Roosevelt that he will not be a candidate for the third term was made today in a letter addressed to Mrs. L. A. Kinney, of Peoria, by Secretary William Loeb, for President Roosevelt. The text of the letter follows:

"White House, Oyster Bay, July 26.—Dear Madame: Your letter of recent rate has been received, and I thank you, in the president's behalf, for calling attention to the inclosed clipping. I would say, however, that the president has nothing to add to the statement issued on the night of the election in 1904. His decision as announced at that time is irrevocable."

TARTARS WAR WITH RUSSIANS AND ALLIES

Mohammedan Hordes Hard-Pressing Czar's Troops and Armenians.

WITH TORCH AND ARMS MANY VILLAGES ARE ATTACKED

Important City of Shusha Is in Flames—Government Sends Reinforcements to the Stricken Town—Triangular Truce Proves of Short Duration.

St. Petersburg, July 30.—The triangular truce between Armenians, Tartars and the Russian troops before Shusha was of the briefest nature. The display of white flags and the naming of representatives of the warring factions to arrange a lasting peace was but a prelude to the resumption of hostilities yesterday upon a larger and bloodier scale. The fighting is not only in full progress at Shusha itself, a town of 30,000 people (180 miles to the southeast of Tiflis), the Tartar quarter of which apparently is in flames, but it has spread to the surrounding country.

There the Tartar population has arisen and is striving to overwhelm the Armenians and the Russian troops. General Soloschakov, in command of the Russian forces, has appealed urgently for reinforcements.

Riflemen Dispatched.

A battalion of riflemen at Yelisavetpol, the nearest point where there are soldiers, already has been dispatched to the scene. The Russians, who, in the disorders of last year, were accused of protecting the Tartars from Armenian attack, are now themselves hard pressed by the Mohammedan hordes.

Advices from Tiflis show that a regular campaign is progressing between Armenians and Tartars in that section. Yesterday large forces of Tartars attacked Askeran pass, which was occupied by Armenians, but were unable to break the Armenian cordon. Fighting is now going on in the villages of Haramurt, Haladad and Karantukh.

The Tartars are concentrating against Askeran pass.

Village Besieged.

On July 27 Kurds attacked the villages of Kalbalikened and Kiermizhan and were endeavoring to force an entrance into Shusha. At the latter place they were repulsed by Russian troops under General Zoloschakov.

News received here from Yelisavetpol says that communication between Agran and Shusha has been interrupted for five days.

Firing between Armenians and Tartars continued from July 25 to July 28. The fighting near Shusha increased in severity on July 29, and resulted in the burning of the town. The government has dispatched reinforcements to the scene.

FLIES CHIEF CAUSE OF FILIPINO CHOLERA.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The outbreak of cholera in the Philippines is due to the unusual number of flies in the islands, according to advices received by the bureau of insular affairs. In the opinion of Dr. Heiser, the head of the bureau of health in the islands, the flies are chiefly, if not wholly, responsible for the spread of the disease, and he is urging a general war upon the flies.

REVOLUTIONISTS SACK VILLAGE SPIRIT STORES

Pskov, Russia, July 30.—A band of 300 peasants burned the Manor house and stock stables belonging to M. Nazymoff, president of the district zemstvo. Subsequently the peasants entered the neighboring village and sacked the spirit stores.

MEMBER OF THE DUMA JAILED AT GRODNO

Breslau, Prussia, July 30.—A dispatch to the Schleische Zertung, from Brest-Litovsk, Russia, says that a member of the outlawed parliament from Grodno, S. P. Kondrashuk, has been arrested by a detachment of troops. No reason was given.

PEASANTS, REBELLING, BURN THREE ESTATES

Sumara, Russia, July 30.—Three large estates in this vicinity were destroyed last night. The peasants are cutting the wood on the crown and private forests.

FIRE PANIC STRICKEN PERSONS DROWN IN RIVER

Warsaw, July 30.—While the church of Willanow, a suburb of Warsaw, was filled with worshipers today, an unknown person outside began firing rapidly with a revolver. A panic followed and the congregation in a wild effort to escape crowded on a ferry boat which sank, drowning five persons.

The affair indicates the nervousness of the people. No day passes without tragic occurrences. In the city park last Saturday evening, a man fired into a crowd, killing one man and wounding four.

MANY WORKMEN STRIKE; DO NOT WAIT FOR ORDER

Yekaterin Oslav, Russia, July 30.—There is a very great agitation among the workmen in this industrial district, but the leaders thus far have successfully prevented a strike, urging the necessity for continuing work until the signal is given from Moscow and St. Petersburg.

At Yuzovaka and Yekaterinodas, however, without waiting for the general signal, many of the factory and mine workers have struck.

The foreign consuls at Yekaterinoslav have made representations to their governments regarding the necessity for protecting foreign subjects, three foreign managers of mills having been attacked during the last week. A German manager was shot with a revolver and killed while leaving his factory. A Belgian manager escaped death through the intervention of a policeman, whom the workmen shot dead, and a French manager was compelled to flee under menace of death.

The garrison here has been reinforced by a detachment of dragoons.

TRYING TO KILL DUKE AGITATORS WRECK TRAIN

Charleroi, Belgium, July 30.—An attempt was made last night to wreck the northern express from Paris. A rail was removed, the engine and tender were ditched and the engineer and fireman were killed. The coaches, however, remained on the track and the passengers were uninjured. It is reported that Russian agitators were responsible for the attempt to wreck the express, supposing that Grand Duke Vladimir was on the train. The railway officials say the grand duke was not on the train. They have no trace of the men who committed the outrage. A dynamite cartridge is said to have been used for the purpose of removing the rail.

NO TRUTH IN RUMOR OF TREPOFF'S ASSASSINATION

St. ePtersburg, July 30.—The rumor in circulation last night that General Trepoff had been assassinated turns out to be as baseless as the report to the same effect which was current early last week.

STOLYPIN HAS HOPES OF FORMING CABINET

St. Petersburg, July 30.—Premier Stolypin has not abandoned hope of inducing public men of bureaucratic spheres to enter a reorganized cabinet and carry out his policy of "strong-handed reform."

Negotiations with M. Guchkoff, Prince Lvoff and Count Heyden are still in progress. The final refusal of men enjoying the full confidence of conservative public opinion to cooperate with the premier would render his task of even measurably pacifying the country almost hopeless.

SEEKS TO FREE ATLANTA WOMAN

May Prevent Her From Entering Cincinnati Convent.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 30.—(Special.)—The Atlanta police court sentence imposed upon a young woman that was brought to Cincinnati may be defeated through the efforts of an Atlanta railroad man named A. W. Wood.

Mrs. Sanderson, police matron of Atlanta, Ga., arrived in Cincinnati today with Emma Ward. On a train half an hour later, over another road, came Hood. He at once sought Attorney Molley and said he desired that the purpose of the Atlanta police, to place the girl in the convent, be thwarted. The girl was taken before Chief Milliken, and Matron Sanderson requested that she be held in custody by the local police, but Milliken refused to do so. Hood has determined that the girl shall not be placed in any institution, and followed her to Cincinnati for the purpose of carrying out his determination. He threatens habeas corpus proceedings.

Emma Ward and A. W. Hood were arrested in Atlanta a number of days ago, and, in order to escape being bound over, the woman agreed to go to the Home of the Good Shepherd in Cincinnati and reform. Hood was bound over to the state courts.

SEEK TO OUST CUMMINS' MEN

Two Republican Tickets Are Likely in Iowa.

Seats of 287 Delegates Are Objected To—Are Alleged Irregular Because They Are Democrats Who Voted for Author of "Iowa Idea."

Des Moines, Iowa, July 30.—The republican state central committee met today and decided by a vote of 6 to 3 to sustain the action of the chairman of the committee in notifying Governor Cummins that the seats of a number of delegates to the republican state convention were contested. It appears the chairman acted upon his own responsibility. He received a petition from adherents of George D. Perkins, a candidate for governor, giving notice that the seats of a large number of Cummins' delegates were contested. The chairman hereon sent notice of this fact to Governor Cummins, who seeks a renomination.

The governor replied in a letter denying the authority of the chairman of the state central committee to take up the matter of contests, asserting that he had no jurisdiction. The chairman, however, called the state central committee to meet in Des Moines today.

The vote of 6 to 3 was regarded as an indication that the committee intended to assume jurisdiction of the contests and to hear contestants and the Cummins delegates in case the latter entered an appearance. There are 1,140 delegates entitled to seats in the state convention for forty-nine counties in the state. When the committee met today there were ten of the eleven members present.

195 Are Involved.

Thomas F. Bevington, an attorney representing the friends of George D. Perkins, gave notice of contests in ten counties involving 195 delegates and protests in the cases of two counties which have ninety-two delegates, making 287 delegates objected to. As to the contests the grounds alleged are "irregularities" and the accepting of democratic votes for Cummins' delegates. As to the protests the objections were technical.

The committee took up and heard a number of the cases, but reached no conclusion. Although Governor Cummins had given notice that he would not be represented before the committee, the chairman of the Cummins delegations whose seats are questioned appeared. They stated, however, that they denied the jurisdiction of the state committee and they contended they had no authority to go behind the returns, simply coming before it before for the purpose of furnishing any information that might be desired.

Two Tickets Likely.

Such a situation as that now existing in Iowa is new to the republicans of this state. The party is apparently divided into two factions—one known as the "progressive," represented by the friends of Governor Cummins and the other called the "stand-patters," who are adherents of George D. Perkins. The feeling on both sides is very bitter, and it is not unlikely that there may be two republican tickets in the field in Iowa after next Wednesday. Although the state central committee has as yet taken no action looking to the making up of a temporary roll, the Cummins followers say if the contesting Perkins delegates are authorized to participate in the temporary organization of the convention the action of the state central committee will be ignored and the legally elected Cummins delegates who claim to have the majority will organize the convention as soon as Chairman Spence calls the delegates to order Wednesday morning.

SAY MOTHER AIMED GUN STRAIGHT AT PATROLMAN WHO SOUGHT HER SON

Police Officer Rowan was met Saturday afternoon when he went to arrest a young man, Fred Ward, by the irate mother of Ward with a pistol, which the officer says she pointed at him, defying the officers, and declaring in the most positive terms that they would never again take her boy away from her.

Consequently, because of her infuriated resistence to the officers, Mrs. Ward and her son were the central figures in a sensational police trial yesterday morning, the mother and son being defended by Representative R. B. Blackburn.

The Wards live on Henry street, leading into Greensferry avenue.

The hearing presented some peculiar features, which were not clearly elucidated before the recorder, and it was this doubt that caused him to dismiss the case against both the mother and son, the former being arraigned as stated for pointing a pistol at an officer, and the latter on two charges, one for larceny after trust, and the other for vagrancy.

The larceny charge against young Ward is over a year's standing, and its not being pushed earlier was one of the things that puzzled the recorder. This charge was preferred by W. F. Gray, a white man, who works at the Woodward Lumber Company, who alleged that he entrusted young Ward with $3.50 many months ago to come down town and pay his taxes for him.

Gray alleged that Ward not only did not pay the taxes, but failed to give back the money. Gray admitted, upon cross question, that $1.50 of the money had been refunded, 50 cents at one time by the young man, and $1 at another time by the mother. Young Ward, in his statement, admitted getting the money and failing to refund it, except as to the amounts above named, but earnestly contended before the recorder that he and Gray at that time were and had previously been good friends, and that he told Gray then that he was liable to spend it. The recorder did not think the evidence sufficiently strong to make a clear case of larceny after trust, and dismissed the charge.

Officer Rowan then pressed the vagrancy charge against Ward, producing several neighbors who swore the young man had been at home idle for the past seven or eight weeks, living off of his parents. Mrs. Ward claimed that her son had to give up a job at the American Can Company because he was not able to stand the heavy lifting, and that his father directed him to stay at home and assist his mother in her work. "We furnish his food," said Mrs. Ward to a question of Judge Broyles, "but he buys his own clothes." Judge Broyles held that, as his parents were willing to support him, and he didn't hang around up town in the pool rooms, he would also dismiss the vagrancy charge. Young Ward, it was brought out, was now under a vagrancy bond.

The young man has a prepossessing face, rather swarthy, with coal black hair and dreamy expression. It is said he devotes a great deal of his time to music.

WILL SEEK AID OF G. A. R. FOR BIG NATIONAL PARK

Three civic organizations of Atlanta will send representatives from their respective bodies to the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, to be held in Minneapolis from August 13 to 18, inclusive, to urge that body to indorse the plan to create a national military park at Atlanta. The delegation from the local Grand Army of the Republic will urge such action upon the part of the national convention.

The suggestion was first made by Colonel S. A. Darnell, of Gainesville, of the local Grand Army of the Republic delegation to the encampment and was heartily concurred in by the city authorities, which named a committee to attend the body for this purpose, composed of Councilmen Martin and Peters and Alderman Harwell.

The chamber of commerce will be represented by President Sam D. Jones and Secretary Walter G. Cooper, if they can possibly make it convenient to attend. Secretary Cooper is especially anxious that President Jones should attend, and the latter will gladly do so if he can possibly pull away a few days from his many business duties.

The county authorities have also been urged to send a delegation, and in view of the great impetus that would be given the movement if the Grand Army of the Republic should give their indorsement to the project and memorialize congress in its behalf, it would not be amiss for the entire board to attend, and the general assembly might fittingly add a delegation in behalf of the state.

Nearly all the great battle fields of the war between the states have been converted into national parks, except Atlanta, and around these historic "red old hills of Georgia" one of the most strenuous and bloody battles of the war was waged.

It was here that McPherson, the great federal commander, and Walker, the intrepid confederate general, both fell in the awful carnage. To one the government has erected a monument, to the other there still sits an old fort to commemorate his valorous deeds.

CLARK HOWELL WINS RABUN

forceful argument against the disfranchisement fraud. The majority of them had long ago deserted a proposition which they soon began to learn, would disfranchise more white men than it would negroes. The negro question does not in any sense enter into the political or any other situation in Rabun, and the people here have learned that the only citizens who would be disfranchised here under such a law are the uneducated white men. They are not ready to take any step which will cut off the civic rights of their friends and neighbors, and they will have none of it.

Mr. Howell showed that Georgia today was possessed of the only sure and legal method of eliminating the negro from politics. The negro plays no part whatever in the politics of the state, and a disfranchisement law, Mr. Howell showed, would not only shut out the uneducated white man; but would at the same time ultimately bring the educated negro back into the politics of Georgia, in which he now plays no part. Mr. Howell discussed the disfranchisement question in all of its various phases, showing the many evils and disadvantages of the operations of the law in other states. Mr. Smith, he declared, had long since ceased to cite the Louisiana disfranchisement law as an example, because of recent developments necessitating the adoption of the white democratic primary plan in that state as the only means of protection against the ever increasing negro vote. Loud applause greeted this showing.

The Railroad Question.

Mr. Howell discussed the railroad question from a standpoint of development and progress. He pointed out not only what had been done for Rabun county, but what was promised in the development of this mountain section as the result of projected railroad enterprise. The projectors of these enterprises he said, should be urged to push them to completion because they mean so much to this section of the state.

"But while I stand for the development and progress of the country," Mr. Howell said, "I also stand for the protection of the people and their individual interests. We should invite investment, in new railroads and in new enterprises of all kinds, but always on the understanding that such investments shall at all times obey our laws and give fair and just treatment to the people of the whole state." (Applause.)

Mr. Howell showed that his record had been consistently in behalf of the people as against the interests of the corporations during his entire career, and that he had taken up the fight for lower freight rates when Mr. Smith was still in the employ of the railroads.

Mr. Howell was frequently applauded and cheered throughout his address, and was given another warm indorsement from his audience at his conclusion. The audience was practically solid for Howell, and numerous friends, old and new, gathered around him with their warm congratulations, and assurances that Rabun county would be practically solid for him.

DIVORCE SUIT WON BY MRS. COREY

dence in Nevada. She stated that she selected Reno upon the advice of her sister in law, Miss Addie Corey; that they considered this place their future home and expected to live here in the future.

Asked for Son.

She stated that she was best suited for the custody of her son, and asked the court to place him in her care.

Mrs. Corey was visibly affected while telling her story. She testified without evasion and in a clear voice. Her attorneys feared that she would collapse, as her health has suffered since the separation. In his opening statement, her attorney, J. R. Redding, of New York, stated that she had been driven to a separation and the divorce proceeding by the sensational stories printed in the newspapers.

"Is it true that newspaper notoriety was the principal factor in your separation from Mr. Corey and is responsible for this divorce proceeding?" asked Benjamin Curler, another of her attorneys.

"Such is not the case. The stories that may have appeared in the press had nothing to do with it," said Mrs. Corey.

Sister on Stand.

Miss Addie Corey, sister of the respondent, was an interesting witness. She corroborated Mrs. Corey's statement that Corey had deserted his wife, and told how she and her aged mother had made several ineffectual attempts to effect a reconciliation.

Her brother, she said, had lost sight of his home, being absorbed in business and infatuated with the fast life of New York.

"Do you consider Mr. Corey a proper custodian for his son?" she was asked.

"I do not," she replied.

"Why?"

"For the reason," she said, "that he is not a proper person for his son to associate with. He has no home and his associates are not fit companions for a young man of Allan's age. I do not think any New York man is fit to have charge of a boy of his age."

"Do you mean all New York men, Miss Corey?" continued the attorney.

"I mean wealthy New York men."

Allan Corey stated that at the time of the parting his father called him to his office and told him that he had decided to part from his mother. "He said I was too young to understand the reasons. He then said that my mother was a good woman and that my place was at her side."

Several witnesses were introduced to establish the residence in Nevada of the plaintiff, all being citizens of Reno.

At the conclusion of the trial, Attorney Sardis Summerfield, of Reno, stated that his client, William E. Corey, was as anxious for the decree of divorce as his wife. "If the decree is granted," he said, "Mr. Corey will be entirely satisfied. He has consented to the divorce. This understanding between Mr. Corey and the attorneys of Mrs. Corey was reached some time ago."

T. R. Chadbourn, of Pittsburg, also appeared as counsel for Mr. Corey, who was not present

IMMEDIATE SETTLEMENT FOR LOST MERCHANDISE

Mr. Smith, of Green, recently introduced in the house of representatives a bill which will be of interest to not only every merchant and farmer, but to every person in the state who receives freight transported by railroad companies. The bill was drawn by President White, of the Greene County Cotton Growers' Association, and will be pushed in the house by Mr. Smith.

The bill provides that common carriers in the state shall make immediate settlement with the consignee of merchandise lost or damaged, when the amount of loss can be agreed upon, and does not exceed $5, and claims in excess of $5 shall be paid within 30 days after the filing of the claim. Should the parties be unable to agree upon the amount of damage or loss, each may name an appraiser, who, if they fail to agree, may name a third, and the award shall be made by the appraisers in accordance with the laws of the state. Should the railroad refuse to pay the award, the owner of the property lost or damaged may bring suit for double the amount of value of such property.

The full text of the bill is as follows:

"An act entitled, An act to require railroad companies to allow their local agents to pay promptly certain claims for damages when the amount can be agreed upon; to provide how damages may be fixed by arbitration, in case of disagreement, for goods or property lost or damaged in transit; to fix the measure of damages in case suit is brought; to permit the original consignor to sue for loss or damage to property or goods shipped; to provide for suit to be brought against either of several connecting lines, and for other purposes.

"Section 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of Georgia, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this act, all railroads doing business in this state as common carriers shall empower their agents charged with the duty of delivering freight at stations or other points, to pay instanter or on demand all claims for loss or damage to goods or merchandise sustained by such goods or merchandise which was in transit and for which such railroad company may be liable; such payments to be made to the consignee or person or persons entitled to receive such goods or merchandise from such railroad company, provided the amount of loss or damages can be agreed upon by the agent of such railroad company and the consignee or other person entitled to receive the same, and provided further that the amount involved does not exceed $5, and provided further that such settlement shall be made at the time delivery of the goods is made, in cases where the loss or damage does not represent the entire goods or merchandise shipped.

"2. Be it further enacted that in all claims of loss or damage where the amount exceeds $5, payment shall be made for loss or damage incurred as shown in the preceding paragraph, within thirty days from the date the consignee or other person interested files claim with the railroad company.

"3. Be it further enacted, That in case of disagreement between the railroad and the owner of the property lost or damaged, as to the amount of damages, the railroad shall select one appraiser, the owner of the property lost or damaged, shall select one appraiser, and in case the two so selected fail to agree, the two shall select a third appraiser, and said three appraisers shall be empowered to assess the damages in accordance with the laws of this state governing appraisers.

"4. Be it further enacted, That in case the railroad shall refuse to pay the award so made and suit is brought by the owner of the goods or merchandise lost or damaged, when proof is made by such owner of the compliance on his part with the aforesaid provisions, he shall be entitled to recover of such railroad company twice the amount of damages or loss sustained.

"5. The holder of the original receipt or bill of lading shall be the lawful owner of the goods and may collect from the initial carrier for any loss sustained on any road carrying the property, and it is further provided that the initial carrier can recover from the carrier upon whose lines the loss was made, and a receipt for payment for loss obtained by original carrier from the owner of the goods so damaged or despoiled or a judgment by the owner of the goods against the initial carrier or a transcript thereof is competent evidence in a proceeding to compel the subsequent carrier in fault to refund to the initial carrier for loss if paid to the owner of the goods.

"6. Be it further enacted, That all laws or parts of laws in conflict with foregoing be and the same are hereby repealed."

Mrs. Pittman was told her husband had been killed in battle, and some years after the war married Benton Whitecotton. Whitecotton was killed soon after marriage. Mrs. Pittman never married again, and Saturday her first husband walked in on her at her home near Cartersville. Pittman was captured during the war and sent to a northern prison. On day of release after war was over Pittman killed a federal officer who abused him. Pittman was tried and condemned to death, but sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. He served forty years and was then released. He immediately came to Georgia and found the wife of his youth, the widow of another. The meeting between the couple was described in Monday's Constitution.

NEW THEATER NOW ASSURED

Work on Wells' Play House Will Begin This Week.

Work will be started this week in tearing down the present building located on the property at Cone street and Carnegie Way preparatory to the building of the new Jake Wells theater in Atlanta. This statement comes officially from Hugh Cordoza, general representative for the Wells interests, together with the announcement that it is the intention to have the theater opened and fulfilling its mission as supplying amusement to the Gate City by Thanksgiving day. Just what attraction will be used for the purpose of christening the new play house has not yet been determined.

As previously reported, this new building, when completed, will have a frontage on Carnegie Way of 83 feet, with a depth on Cone street of 157 feet. Fuller Claflin, architect of the Wells interests, has completed the plans, these have been accepted, and much of the preparatory work has already been completed.

The matter of building theaters in the present day has been reduced to a science, which economizes much time over the old methods. This property will be devoted entirely to the theater alone, and there will be no offices other than those of the resident manager of the theater. As soon as the present buildings on the site are demolished supervising contractors will arrive in Atlanta and see to the building of the foundations. This completed, other supervisors will take charge and see to the construction of the walls, while still others will look after the floors, the roof, etc. Some of these supervisors are now engaged on the Wells theaters in Chattanooga and Evansville, and it is expected that they will come to Atlanta immediately for the purpose of directing affairs.

While the details of this theater for Atlanta, which is promised to be the first of any of the Wells chain of playhouses, have been previously reported, this announcement by General Representative Cordoza that work upon demolishing the present buildings on the property preparatory to the constriction of a handsome new playhouse with a balcony and gallery seating 2,000 people, leaves no doubt about the matter, and promises that Atlanta will have an especial occasion for Thanksgiving on the special holiday set apart for that purpose by the president.

ADMITS STEALING HARTJE LETTERS

Detective Says He Looted Coachman's Room.

Examines Missives and Tells Court They Were the Ones He Took. Sixth Week of Trial of the Famous Divorce Case Is Begun.

Pittsburg, July 30.—There was a spirit of weariness pervading the courtroom despite the recess of two days when the trial of August Hartje's application for divorce from Mrs. Mary Scott Hartje was resumed today. This is the beginning of the sixth week of the case and the nineteenth day of actual trial.

The presence of several private detectives in the courtroom gave rise to the report that the plaintiff would attempt to prove where he obtained the famous love letters to Coachman Madine, the corespondent.

The surmise was correct, as the witness called was John B. Staubb, an operative for a private detective agency. When the witness was asked about the letters, counsel for Mrs. Hartje objected, on the ground that the evidence was not rebuttal and should have been offered in the evidence in chief.

Evidence Admitted.

Judge Frazer said he thought so too, but in view of Madine's denial that the letters were ever in his possession he would admit the evidence. If the other side desired any time in which to rebut this testimony, however, the court would grant them all the time they wanted.

The witness testified that he had visited Madine's room twice and with John A. Anderson, another detective, had broken open Madine's trunk and removed the letters. He identified the court exhibits as the missives taken.

During Staubb's testimony Mrs. Hartje appeared uneasy and then angry, while her husband's manner was apparently one of cool indifference. Madine came into court while the witness was still on the stand, and after listening intently to the testimony for a time, hurriedly left the courtroom.

Crowd Indignant.

Staubb was subjected to a vigorous cross examination, and the relation of the methods and code of signals which he and his brother detective used in procuring the letters caused much amusement.

Staubb was unable to tell what other articles were in the trunk, and several times became badly tangled under the fire of cross questions. Detective Anderson was then called to the stand, and corroborated Staubb's details of the taking of the letters.

When court adjourned a large crowd gathered in front of the court house, and for a time Grant street was almost impassable. Threats of violence were made against Detectives Staubb and Anderson, who testified today, and a detail of police was sent to preserve order.

THAW WOMEN ARE AT OUTS

Mother and Wife of the Prisoner Have a Disagreement.

New York, N. Y., July 30.—While Mrs. William Thaw was still in conference with her son at the Tombs today, Mrs. Harry Thaw came hurrying toward the warden's office from the Thaw cell. She was evidently much depressed and asked the warden to disregard the prison rules and allow her to use the prison telephone to call up Thaw's counsel and Detective O'Meara. She said the matter was very urgent and the warden consented. Both men responded promptly and had interviews with Harry Thaw at his cell before Mrs. William Thaw left the prison.

Mother in Tears.

When the elder Mrs. Thaw came down to the warden's office there were traces of tears on her face, and she seemed to be agitated. She did not speak to Mrs. Harry Thaw as she passed her in the office. The younger Mrs. Thaw at first declared that she would remain in the warden's office until after the lunch hour at the prison in order to see her husband again, but finally left the prison in company with Mr. Hartridge.

Mr. Hartridge said today that there are no detectives working in Pittsburg in Thaw's behalf, except such as may be employed or connected with ex-Chief O'Meara.

There was an excited conversation between Roger O'Meara and Mrs. Harry K. Thaw before they left the Tombs prison. O'Meara and Mr. Hatridge started to leave the prison together, but O'Meara returned to Mrs. Thaw and asked her to go to her hotel.

Refuses to Leave.

"No, I am going to stay right here," she replied, "until the visitors come this afternoon. "I don't want to leave with things as they are."

"You must go," said O'Meara, positively. He took her arm while she was still protesting and led her to her hansom. As he helped her in. O'Meara said to the driver:

"You take her to the Lorraine and don't bring her back here again today."

It is believed that the excitement at Thaw's cell today was brought about by a letter received by Mrs. Harry K. Thaw, which she took to the cell with her.

BIBB BLACKS OUT OF POLITICS

Only 178 Negroes in the County Are Entitled to Vote.

Macon, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Bibb county now presents one of the most striking examples of the removal of the negro from politics in a registration which consists exclusively of property holders among the colored race. There are but 178 negroes upon the registration books of the county and these have been forced to register because of the fact that they are required to pay property taxes and consequently cannot escape the poll tax. There are more than 20,000 negroes in Bibb county and out o fthis number, if all the poll taxes of the past had been paid, there would have been something like three or four thousand negroes capable of voting, or registering. It is estimated that it would take not less than $50,000 to $75,000 to register all the deliquents for a single election in this county and the negro himself realizes that this is beyond question.

The Macon Dispatch, a negro publication of this city, has been steadily working to enlist all the negroes possible upon the present registration books. The results are already given in the figures for the county and there is no probability of getting this list increased.

TWO TRAINS MEET IN CRASH

Several Persons Are Injured But No Lives Lost in Collision.

Louisville, July 30.—The Pennsylvania passenger train No. 26, from Indianapolis, collided head-on with a Madison train in the yards at Columbus, Ind., today. Both engines were wrecked and several passengers were slightly injured, several of whom are from Louisville and New Orleans. The injured:

Mrs. David Frantz, Louisville, nose cut and suffering from shock.

Mr. F. W. Curry and daughter, Louisville, shaken up.

Miss Martha Venable, New Albany, Ind., knee sprained.

Miss Nettie Meredith, Rockport, Ind., not serious.

The train crews escaped by jumping. The Louisville train was late and was running at a high rate of speed. The wreck was due to a misunderstanding of orders.

IT WILL MEET IN NOVEMBER.

Governor Cox Announces Date for Immigration Conference.

Nashville, July 30.—Governor J. I. Cox, chairman of the Southern Immigration and Quarantine convention, which is to meet in this city, announced today, after a conference with President Leland Hume and Secretary E. S. Shannon, of the board of trade, that the week of November 13 would be recommended as the date for holding the conference and that the several vice chairmen of the conference would be notified immediately of the decision, after which the general call would be made. Governor Robert B. Glenn, of North Carolina, will call the meeting of the Southern Industrial parliament at that time and it is probable that the two organizations will be consolidated, as the problems of each have to do with the same matters.

NEGRO MURDERS BABES AND MOTHER

Black Admits Burning House to Hide Crime.

Had Intended Assaulting Four-Year-Old Child—Frustrated by Mother, He Shoots Three to Death. Pennsylvanians Threaten Lynching.

Canonsburg, Pa., July 30.—Coroner W. H. Snipe and Constable John J. Miller, of Canonburg, drove into town at 7:30 o'clock today with Elmer Dempster, a 19-year-old negro, who had been arrested for the murder of Mrs. Samuel Pearce and two children and the shooting of a third child last evening. Dempster was taken to the Washington county jail at Washington, Pa., leaving here on a trolley car at 8 o'clock.

While no blood stains were found on the negro, suspicion rested on him last night when it was learned that he was the last person seen about the house before the tragedy. Dempster was a helper on the Pearce farm, and after the departure of Samuel Pearce with his sister, Miss Fanny Perce, for the Canonburg railroad station, Dempster is said to have been at the scene of the tragedy, looking after the stock.

Black Confesses.

He was taken from his bed at 2 o'clock this morning and put through a course of sweating, which lasted until daylight, when, it is alleged, he made a complete confession. According to the story told in his confession, the negro attempted an assault on the 4-year-old daughter after the departure of Mr. Pearce, but was frustrated by the mother, who went to a bureau to get a revolver to shoot him. The negro says he secured the gun first and, after killing the mother and shooting the children, set fire to the house to hide the crime.

Feeling against Dempster is running high.

MURDERER IS BEYOND REACH OF THE MOB

Washington, Pa., July 30.—Dempster was safely lodged in jail here at 9 o'clock today. The officers had an exciting trip from Canonsburg. Two attempts were made to take the negro from them.

Shortly after leaving Canonsburg a crowd of about twenty men boarded the car and with shouts of "lynch him," "kill him," dragged the prisoner and officers from the car.

A fierce struggle followed, but the officers succeeded in keeping possession of the negro and finally drove the mob off at the points of their revolvers. When Washington was reached nearly 300 people had gathered at the court house, but the crowd was eluded by taking the prisoner through the basement to the jail.

DIVORCE ASKED BY MRS. JETER

She Claims Husband Commanded Her to Leave Home.

Mrs. Annie Laurie Jeter yesterday petitioned the superior court for a total divorce from her husband, George Pierce Jeter, superintendent of the Exposition Cotton Mills.

As grounds for her action, Mrs. Jeter alleges that she has been treated cruelly and inhumanly by her husband, and that upon the latter's departure to Athens, July 22, she was commanded to leave his house forever, and that the instructions were obeyed, she leaving the home of sixteen years on the following morning. She also alleges that there are six children, and that she desires the custody of the two minor children, Carrie Louise and Frederick Pierce; that the defendant, as superintendent of the Exposition Cotton Mills, commands a monthly salary of between $200 and $300, and prays for such alimony as it will require to defray expenses of herself and children.

Judge Roan has issued a temporary order requiring the defendant to pay the plaintiff a good and sufficient alimony, pendente lite.

Death of Daughter of General Albert Sidney Johnston.

Louisville, Ky., July 30.—Miss Henrietta Johnston, daughter of General Albert Sidney Johnston, the famous confederate commander, died last night at St. Joseph's infirmary.

Several months ago Miss Johnston received a fall, sustaining a fracture of the collar bone and other injuries from which she never recovered. During the past thirty years she has made her home at St. Joseph's infirmary. She was 64 years old.

POVERTY FORCES HIS SURRENDER

Paterson's Alleged Embezzler Mayor Gives Up.

Had Been Wandering Over Country Since August, 1905—Is Charged With Having Fraudulently Taken $25,000—Worked in Various Places.

Paterson, N. J., July 30—Former Mayor Belcher, of this city, who has been wanted for some time for an alleged shortage, returned here yesterday and gave himself up. He was forced to take this step by his poverty.

Belcher has not been out of the country in spite of rumors that he was in the Hawaiian islands and China. Since his disappearance he has wandered about the country, obtaining employment where and when he could, and was finally forced by stress of circumstances to return to the city where he once had friends.

Belcher had been missing since August 1, 1905. He was charged with having obtained $20,000 by fraudulent representations and with taking $5,000 from a local company of which he was president.

WALTON COUNTY HEARS RUSSELL

Judge Addresses a Large Gathering of Voters at Monroe.

Monroe, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—The largest crowd that ever heard a political speech in Walton county listened to Judge Richard B. Russell here today. Judge Russell arrived in the city at 9 o'clock this morning from Winder, accompanied by a crowd of enthusiastic supporters. He was met at the train here by a large number of people and was cheered as he made his appearance. He was escorted to the court house, where there was a great crowd, nearly all of whom were soon wearing Russell badges.

The speaking began at 10 o'clock, and was in the open air, as not half of the people could get in the court house auditorium, the largest in the city. Judge Russell was introduced by Hon. J. L. Nunnally, a confederate veteran, former representative and brother of Dr. G. A. Nunnally, who spoke of the candidate's early struggles, his record as a legislator, solicitor and judge of the superior court, and the warm regard in which he is held by the people of this section.

Judge Russell's speech was along his usual lines and free from mud-slinging and abuse. He denied that he was running in the interest of any other candidate than himself, and scored all the other candidates. He denounced, amid tremendous applause the disfranchisement fraud as supported by Hoke Smith, and said it was absolutely no issue in this campaign. His reference to Hoke Smith's negro appointments and to Hoke's inconsistency upon several questions brought forth cheering. Two or three times during the speaking the rain came down, but the crowd did not leave. There was much enthusiasm throughout the speech. There was nothing bt the speech to draw the people, but the audience was estimated at from twenty-five hundred to three thousand, or more than twice the number that heard Hoke Smith during superior court.

The music for the occasion was furnished by the Garison brass band.

DANIEL WATER
NOT A SALT WATER

But a light, easily assimilated alkaline water, causing no irritation or heaviness when taken into the stomach, but producing a soothing effect upon the delicate membranes. At the same time it promotes digestion, corrects acidity and stimulates the liver to greater activity.

Daniel Water is superior as a stomach water, containing some of the most valuable alkaline agents known to the medical world. For Catarrh of the Bowels, Kidneys, Bladder and Stomach, it is one of the greatest of all remedies. It relieves Constipation, which is usually the cause of severe headaches, nausea, irritability and nervousness.

Because of its lightness and purity, it is best suited to persons with weak digestion and delicate stomachs. For the healthy there is no better water; for the sick it is indispensable.

JUDGE ROBERTS IS AT REST.

He Had Been Ordinary of Terrell County for Years.

Dawson, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—The remains of the late Judge J. W. Roberts arrived here from Atlanta this afternoon, accompanied by several of his children and Representative E. L. Rainey. The funeral services were conducted in the Baptist church by Rev. K. A. Ivey, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. M. Long. Mr. Ivey paid a feeling tribute to the memory of the deceased, who was an exemplary Christian, a faithful public officer and model citizen.

Judge Roberts, who was 79 years old, was first elected ordinary of Terrell county in 1888, and has since continued to fill this office most efficiently and acceptably, always being reelected without opposition. He is survived by six children, a large number of grandchildren, and several great-grandchildren. During the funeral services every house and office in the city were closed.

TENTS PITCHED ON BATTLEFIELD

Formal Opening of the Encampment at Chickamauga.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 30.—The encampment of regulars and national guard at Chickamauga National Park opened formally today and will last until late in September. The troops there now are the Twelfth cavalry, Third and Fourth field batteries of the regular army, Seventeenth infantry and Seventy-first Virginia infantry, First Alabama infantry and Third South Carolina infantry national guard.

The first period of instruction ends on Friday next, and on Saturday the military regiments will leave for home, their places to be taken by commands from other states.

The work for today as outlined in an order by Brigadier General Bubb, in command, will consist of company instruction by all organizations. There will also be technical engineer and signal service work, exemplified by men from the detachments of regulars.

The field hospital has not reached here yet, although it was shipped twelve days since from Washington. There are surgeons, hospital nurses and non-commissioned officers of the department in sufficient force, but they are without tentage and appliances. The troops are in camp, the regulars in one body and the militia in another, a short distance apart, near the place where General Lytle was killed in the battle of Chickamauga.

Encampment in Texas.

Austin, Tex., July 30.—The federal encampment of the national guard, composed of the states of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Indian Territory, was formally organized here today for a twelve weeks' stay. Eight thousand or more troops and militia are expected by the end of the week. The troops here are quartered four miles north of the city, in a national military park, and the soldiers are entering upon their work with enthusiasm.

The commanding officers are busy mapping out the programme of maneuvers. This morning a run across the country of 12 miles gave the military boys an opportunity of learning something of what is to be expected of them while in camp. The weather is ideal.

Thousands visited Camp Mabry this afternoon to witness the maneuvers of the national guard, many ladies being in attendance. The first reconnaisance of all arms was had this afternoon when the assembled troops were divided into two opposing armies and brought together in combat for the display of their military and field actions. The two opposing forces were supposed to be approaching each other from San Antonio and Marble Falls, Texas, those from the first named place being geographically located on the plains for the purpose of repulsing the attacking force from Marble Falls. The maneuvers were excellently executed, the umpires, however, withholding their decision as to which side won.

The state volunteer guard is expected here on August 4 to spend two weeks with the national guard and much of the intervening time will be devoted to making ready for their coming.

The camp grounds are in excellent condition and the troops generally say that they were never better quartered.

SECRETARY CHEATHAM ACKNOWLEDGES ACTING AS AGENT OF O'GRADY

Says That He Placed the Orders to Accommodate a Friend.

POSTPONE INVESTIGATION UNTIL WEDNESDAY MORNING

Mike O'Grady Stated Yesterday Afternoon That He Intended to Take Legal Action Against Firms Making His Name Public.

Secretary Richard Cheatham, of the Southern Cotton Association, admitted, yesterday afternoon, that he acted as agent of Mike O'Grady in placing the orders for cotton futures, stating that he was merely serving a personal friend that he had no pecuniary interest in the deals, and that when the orders were placed with W. R. Fagan, the local representative of the New York cotton brokerage firms, he stated to him that these transactions were for O'Grady.

The investigation of the charges of Representative Anderson were postponed twice yesterday, the latter time to Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

When 10 o'clock arrived yesterday Hon. W. L. Peek, of Conyers, was the only one of the committee present. State President M. L. Johnson wired from Cartersville that he would arrive later in the day, and the hearing was postponed till 3 o'clock in the afternoon. President Johnson missed his train at Cass station and so notified President Jordan. The latter then got a definite statement over the telephone from the former that he could be on hand Wednesday morning. Committeeman Peek could not remain over today, for it is his anniversary and there is to be a family reunion at his Rockdale home to commemorate the event. So Wednesday was agreed on.

President Jordan stated these facts to the assembled parties and press representatives at the afternoon session and the meeting dispersed.

The presence of Mike O'Grady, of Chattonooga, at the association rooms added considerable interest to this all-absorbing topic in cotton circles now anent the recent Anderson charges. O'Grady was one of those referred to through whom an officer of the Southern Cotton Association was alleged to have dealt with the bucket shops.

At the association rooms O'Grady stated to a Constitution reporter that he had requested Secretary Cheatham, his personal friend, to make certain deals for him through the exchange here, as for business reasons he did not wish to make them himself in Chattanooga, that for these reasons he wished to keep these transactions secret and entrusted them to Secretary Cheatham, but not until he had to urge him to do so, and that Cheatham consented finally very reluctantly. O'Grady regretted all this publicity and bringing his private affairs into such notoriety, and he stated to The Constitution that he would seek a well-known Atlanta attorney, naming him, and see if there was not some redress at law against the New York and New Orleans houses making public his private affairs.

RICHARD CHEATHAM,
Who yesterday admitted that he acted as agent for Mike O'Grady.

The houses through which these deals were made are Gibert & Clay, of New York and New Orleans, and Charles D. Freeman & Co., of New York. Secretary Cheatham, acting for O'Grady, at the latter's urgent solicitation, O'Grady says, had made these deals with W. R. Fagan, the representative of these houses. "Cheatham had not a dollar's interest in the transactions," O'Grady said, "and was acting solely as my agent." He came down here of his own volition, he said, to set this matter right, when he saw the publicity his private deals had been given, and he was going to take the matter up with the New York houses for exposing his name.

P. A. Lee, the other man referred to by Representative Anderson, did not materialize, but it was said yesterday that he would be on hand. O'Grady is connected with the Wakeman Distilling Company, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and said the amount of his dealings with the bucket shop firms was $2,000. He had brought along statements from these firms to show that the transactions were his own, and not Cheatham's.

What Mr. Cheatham Says.

Secretary Cheatham was seen and asked regarding the two statements attributed to him by The Georgian regarding the interview contained in The Constitution of the 25th, in which it was stated that "O'Grady's name is new to me;" while O'Grady states in an interview with The Georgian of yesterday, "I have known Cheatham for years." Secretary Cheatham stated that he was misquoted in The Constitution of the 25th, and accounts for it in the following manner:

"A reporter for The Constitution called on me on the evening of July 24 and asked me in regard to the charges made by Mr. Anderson, as to whether they were true or not. I replied to him that in regard to the charge that I had ever owned an interest in a bucket shop, this was not true, but as to the names of O'Grady and Lee, I had nothing to say, as that was a private matter. I called his attention to the fact that one afternoon paper had misquoted me, while the others had quoted me correctly. I showed him the correct quotation, which was contained in The Georgian of the 24th, and told him that was all I had to say in regard to the matter. He cut the piece from The Georgian, which was as follows:

"'As to what Mr. Anderson charged about the names Lee and Mike O'Grady, I have nothing to say,' said Richard Cheatham, secretary of the Southern Cotton Association, when asked for a statement concerning the sensational incident in the house Tuesday afternoon. 'But as to any official connection with a bucket shop, owning any interest in one, or being otherwise related to one, I state that any such insinuations are false.'

"The Constitution reporter left the office with the clipping in his hand. He then visitd President oJrdan's office for the purpose of interviewing him on the same subject. President Jordan stated to him that the 'names of O'Grady and Lee are new to me.'

"The Constitution reporter evidently got the two interviews mixed and used Mr. Jordan's expression or replies instead of the newspaper clipping secured by him, which was correct."

"It occurs to me," said Secretary Cheatham, "that if The Georgian desired to publish the facts in connection with this affair, they could have as easily quoted from their own paper of the 24th, in which I was correctly quoted, as they could from The Constitution of the 25th."

President Harvie Jordan, when seen, said the reporter referred to came into his office with a newspaper clipping in his hand the day he and Cheatham gave out statements to the press regarding the Anderson charges, and that, being asked what he had to say regarding them, replied that the names of Lee and O'Grady were new to him. He stated yesterday afternoon that yesterday was the first time he had ever seen Mike O'Grady, and he never knew of his existence before.

CORRECTION IN REPORT.

Joe Hill Hall Denies Saying That Hoke Smith's Campaign Was "Infamous."

Hon. Joe Hill Hall, of Bibb, who made a speech on the gubernatorial campaign issues at Carrollton, Ga., on last Saturday, desires that a correction be made in the report of the speech which appeared in The Constitution of yesterday. Said Mr. Hall to a Constitution reporter:

"The report which The Constitution correspondent at Carrollton sent in and which was published in your paper was fair and full except that your correspondent misunderstood me when he quoted me as using the word 'infamous' with regard to the campaign of Hoke Smith. I had no intention of using that word, and did not use it."

THEY WERE SHOT WHILE AT SUPPER

Attempt of Negro to Kill George Bloodworth.

The Negro Made His Escape From Prison, and Going to the Home of His Prosecutor, Fired, Wounding Bloodworth and His Wife.

Constitution Bureau, 467 Second Street, Macon, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Bent upon getting even with George E. Bloodworth for the part this citizen took in sending George Morris, a negro, about twenty years of age, to the Baldwin county chaingang, the latter secured a shotgun last night, after he had escaped from prison, and, after slipping up to the house where Mr. and Mrs. Bloodworth were seated at their supper table, near Stevens' Pottery, he took deliberate aim through an opening and fired, the shot taking effect in the faces of both Mr. and Mrs. Bloodworth. A small son sitting between them at the table was uninjured.

The lives of the two people were saved only through the fact that the shot were small and scattered. Only a few shots took effect, but both were dangerously wounded.

In the midst of the excitement the negro threw down his gun and fled. Mr. Bloodworth soon regained himself and gave the alarm. Mrs. Bloodworth and her son were left to the care of neighbors and a searching party started out.

The woods in the vicinity of Brown's crossing, and all the way to Macon, were scoured with diligence and every effort was made to locate the negro, but thus far he is out of reach. Fifteen or twenty armed citizens have visited Macon during the day hoping to trace the fugitive here. Officers have been notified and all precautionary steps taken.

Early this morning, Deputy Tom Jones was said to have seen a negro skulking in the shadows who filled the description, and as all searching parties believe he came here, a thorough search is being made in Macon.

George Bloodworth, brother of the injured man, was among the searchers, his brother having been too badly injured to make the hunt.

The wounds of the injured Bloodworths have been attended and are thought to be not necessarily fatal. Mr. Bloodworth may lose an eye, but both he and his wife will recover. They realize that they had a very close call and neighbors who learned of the negro's deed, have become greatly wrought up. He would have been lynched without ceremony if he had been captured last night.

Cooper Completes Record.

Macon, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Attorney John R. Cooper today filed the papers in the appeal for J. G. Rawlings with Deputy Clerk L. M. Erwin and the fight will go up to the United States suprme court, there to be heard as soon as it is reached. It is probable that there will be no decision upon the point raised until December. Attorney Cooper will proceed at once to secure the respite necessary to save Rawlings from the gallows next Friday.

Holliman Used Revolver.

Macon, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—M. P. Holliman, a white citizen, was arraigned in police court this morning under charge of shooting at another after a row Saturday night in which he used his revolver. He was said to have made a desperate effort to end the life of a friend. He got a fine of $40 in police court and went over to city court under bond awaiting trial.

Hunt Assumes Charge.

Macon, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—J. Lawrence Hunt, the newly promoted traveling passenger agent of the Southern railway, took charge of his office here today. James Freeman will leave at once for his new office as traveling passenger agent with headquarters at Jacksonville. Mr. Hunt comes from Columbus.

Elks Return From Denver.

Macon, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Judge John P. Ross, William E. Martin, Jr., and others who went from Macon as representatives to the National Elks' convention in Denver have returned to Macon. Their trip was accounted one of the most pleasant and profitable in their lodge lives and they have many new things to tell of the order.

EXTENDS CIVIL SERVICE.

Examinations for Internal Revenue Force to Be Held.

Washington, July 30.—The announcement of President Roosevelt of a month ago that he would try the experiment of appointing deputy collectors of internal revenue through the medium of the civil service commission on competitive examination, took form today when the commission issued an announcement that examinations would be held at Asheville, Statesville, Salisbury, Charlotte and Winston, N. C., August 29, for clerk and office deputies, storekeekers, gaugers and division deputy collectors. It is the first time in the history of the civil service commission that "raiding deputies" must secure their appointment under civil service rules.

The president reached his determination in this respect at the time of the recent change in collectors for the western district of North Carolina, and it is stated that if the plan proves successful the civil service rules will be applied to all other internal revenue districts.

SHE ATTEMPTED TO END LIFE.

Mrs. Collins, of Macon, Swallows Morphine.

Macon, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Mrs. Leila Collins, a cotton mill operative, who resides on Bellvue avenue, Huguenin Heights, sought to end her life this morning, when alone, by taking a very large dose of morphine. She has a husband, who is also a cotton mill operative. The usual preparations had been made to go to work in the mills when Mrs. Collins remained at home. Within a few moments she had taken the dose, which was fast doing its deadly work. Some one of her neighbors called in and found her almost insensible and quickly called for a physician. She was lingering at death's door late this afternoon. She is said to have found disappointment in her home.

BRYAN TO FIRE OPENING GUN

Democrats Will Outline Platform on August 30.

Issues Will Be Announced at Meeting of Welcome to Nebraskan at Madison Square—Folk, Tom Johnson and Others Will Speak.

New York, July 30.—William Jennings Bryan, it was announced last night, desires it to be known that he will outline his conception of the issues upon which the next democratic national convention should be fought in his Madison square speech on August 30. This is the official programme of this reception as announced yesterday at the headquarters of the executive committee at the Victoria hotel.

Mr. Bryan will be met at the battery on the afternoon of August 30 by the members of the reception committee in carriages. He will enter a carriage in which will be Governor Folk, of Missouri, chairman of the reception committee; Tom L. Johnson, mayor of Cleveland, and possibly some other prominent democrat. Headed by the Bryan carriage, the procession will move up Broadway to the Victoria hotel.

Mr. Bryan will meet the democratic leaders there.

In the evening he will be escorted to Madison Square garden for the reception.

Folk to Preside.

Governor Folk will call the meeting to order and will make a speech, after which he will introduce Mayor Johnson to preside. Augustus Thomas will deliver an address of welcome on behalf of the Commercial Travelers' Anti-Trust League, which took the initiative in planning the reception. Mr. Bryan will then deliver his oration on the democratic issues for 1908. More than 900 acceptances to the invitation to the reception have been received, it was said.

Word was received at the Victoria hotel yesterday from the treasurer of the reception committee, Alex Troup, of New Haven, in reference to the popular subscriptions for Mr. Bryan's reception that the subscriptions had been pouring in on him and in the end would be all that the most ardent admirer of Mr. Bryan could desire.

JOHN WALKER MAKES REPORT

Secretary of Cotton Association Has Received $1,255.68.

In a period covering less than four months, the Georgia state division of the Southern Cotton Association has received $1,255.68, according to the report of the division treasurer, J. D. Walker of Sparta, Ga.

The time covered, to be exact, is from April 7 to July 21, and the report is of general interest throughout the state, in view of the object of the association, to work toward the end of making the staple command as good a market price as possible and to further generally the cotton industry in the south.

The association is in part responsible for the recent prevailing good prices in cotton, and has the interest of the farmers at heart, as well as that of the larger business men handling the staple. From this report it appears that the association is gaining headway and other good work in the future is promised.

Will Investigate the Charges.

Birmingham, Ala., July 30.—Emil Lesser, president of the German Immigration Society of Alabama, left here today for Lockhart, Ala., where he will make a personal report of the alleged ill-treatment of German immigrants at the camps of the Jackson Lumber Company. Mr. Lesser conferred with the German vice consul at Pensacola this afternoon, and will later make a report of his findings.

'Frisco Truckmen Strike.

San Francisco, July 30.—In order to enforce their demand for a shorter work day and an increased wage scale, a large number of truck workers employed by the United railroads struck this morning. This action followed a mass meeting held at the headquarters of the labor council. Up to now it is reported that six hundred men are out and the union leaders say that fully a thousand more will quit..

Apropos of our "greater American navy," The Springfield Republican remarks: "Six new battle ships within the next six months, four more in the six months following and still three more in the six months after that—let no one imagine that the United States will not be a great naval power by 1907. But there are those who never will be satisfied."

The Chicago board of review has asked the executors of Marshall Field's estate to pay $2,800,000 in settlement of taxes which the merchant escaped in his lifetime. And yet, if we are not mistaken, Marshall Field in his lifetime was pointed out as the one rich man in America who made it a point of principle never to dodge the tax collector.

It may be a little late in the season for fish stories, but here is one from an exchange that is fuly up to the best of the earlier season. Near Whitehaven, Pa., the story goes, a Lehigh valley conductor hooked a catfish which he could not land. He was about to give up in despair when another fisherman offered to wade the stream and spear the fish. To his surprise the fisherman found his line entering the bunghole of a beer keg. The keg was dragged ashore and found to contain a 4-pound catfish, which had grown too large to pass through the bunghole.

THAT DIVINE ("COME BACK!") CALL.

The Divine Call to "come back" on a dead lope and "recarry" some county jubilantly pictured as "carried" only a short space ago keeps ringing in the ears of the disturbed candidate of the anti-democratic forces.

The list of "come-back!" counties is already reaching large proportions. Good old Mitchell was added on Saturday. Days before the call had come in such agonized tones that Mr. Smith's managers tarried not, but shot him down to Mitchell on Saturday. Sunday The Atlanta Journal placed Mitchell again in the Smith column, with liberal use of the slap-stick and thunder-drum to drown fears regarding its staying there.

A little over a year ago—on July 25, 1905, to be exact—Mr. Smith turned loose his vocabulary in Mitchell county. Reporting the results, his Organ screamed joyously:

"Mitchell county is ABSOLUTELY solid for Hoke Smith!"

"He need not do ANY work here!"

"Only TWENTY votes in the entire county are against Smith!"

Absolutely solid! No work needed! Only twenty votes at large!

Is it POSSIBLE that Mitchell has been so unfaithful to the Divinely Called as to lose its SOLIDITY for him in the brief space of twelve months?

Why?

And so "work" is "needed" there, now. "Work"—for what? To bag those measly TWENTY votes? What a tiresome journey to take for TWENTY votes!

There are only two explanations possible. Either Mitchell NEVER WAS CARRIED in the first instance, and some one cruelly fooled Mr. Smith and the Organ about those TWENTY votes; or, Mitchell has caught on to the hyprocrisy and fraud and danger of the campaign Mr. Smith is waging, and has UNCARRIED itself with a vengeance.

Wilkes county was also "carried," with a shout last year. Since then, the Divine Call has sounded there twice more—in the urgent accents of a fire alarm bell. Twice more has Mr. Smith singed the sagegrass getting there in response. And so stubborn is Wilkes, that it is said a FOURTH frenzied Call is incubating!

And there are others—many others. The "come back" cry is ringing constantly in the ears of the Divinely Called. The calls to counties long since put high up in the dead-sure column keep coming at the rate of six to ten a day. The slump is appalling to the anti-democratic cabal. Consternation has set in upon the little clique that has thought a "boom" could be manufactured out of hot air.

The plain truth is that the time for real activity has come, the people of Georgia are rallying to their DEMOCRATIC allegiance, and REPUDIATING the plot to wreck the democratic party in Georgia.

CONGRESSMAN HARDWICK'S POLITICAL ETHICS

In view of the many bitter attacks which The Atlanta Journal has been making upon any and every prominent Georgian who differs with that organ upon the issues now before the people, The Constitution takes this opportunity to say that it sees no possible reason for quarreling with Congressman Hardwick, of the tenth district, for his activity in behalf of Hoke Smith.

In his speech at Thomson, Mr. Hardwick said he recognized that members of congress should not take part in state campaigns when the only question was one of personal aspiration, but that when real issues are involved it is the duty of members of congress and all good citizens to discuss such issues before the people for their enlightenment.

The Constitution heartily agrees with Mr. Hardwick in his understanding of political ethics. When the contest in a democratic primary is solely one of personal ambition among democrats, with nothing but the personal merits of the candidates involved, democratic officials cannot be expected to manifest any greater interest than is manifested by private citizens, though, of course, they always have the same right as private citizens to support the man of their choice.

The present state campaign long since ceased to be one merely of personal ambitions and aspirations as between democrats. The remarkable alliance between Hoke Smith and Tom Watson, as the result of which Smith agreed to swallow all his convictions on the "disfranchisement" question in return for Watson's support, has served to open the eyes of the people to the ONE VITAL ISSUE—whether the democratic party of Georgia is READY TO TURN ITSELF OVER TO ITS BITTEREST AND MOST RELENTLESS ENEMIES.

This is an issue which should call into being the activity of EVERY DEMOCRAT in Georgia, and it has done so. With their eyes fully opened by Tom Watson's bold defi to democracy, all true democrats are rallying for the great battle with democracy's enemies which will be fought out on August 22.

We have no quarrel with Mr. Hardwick for aligning himself with the enemies of the democratic party. As a citizen he has that right: as a democratic office-holder, it is a matter between him and his conscience.

Nor have we any quarrel with Mr. Hardwick over the truly remarkable revelation openly made by Tom Watson at Thomson on Saturday, when the populist leader said:

"Mr. Hardwick, gallant gentleman that he is, told me time and again that if I wanted to return to congress, HE WOULD GET OUT OF THE WAY. There SHOULD BE NO OPPOSITION, and I could return—a very handsome and gallant thing for him to do!"

Handsome and gallant indeed!

Interesting, too, is the spectacle of a man who holds a commission FROM THE DEMOCRATS of the tenth district running time and again to the foremost enemy of the democratic party and not only tendering to him the position of representative in congress from the tenth district, but assuring him that he SHOULD HAVE NO OPPOSITION.

The Constitution, we repeat, has no quarrel with Mr. Hardwick over the remarkable fact thus revealed by Mr. Watson himself, but it is just possible the DEMOCRATS OF THE TENTH DISTRICT may have some pretty strong thoughts on the subject. The only importance this revelation has to the democrats of the state at large is that it shows JUST WHERE MR. HARDWICK STANDS, and sheds additional light upon the ANTI-DEMOCRATIC LINE-UP which is supporting Hoke Smith!

What do the DEMOCRATS of Georgia think of it all, anyway?

The South's Storehouse.

The Manufacturers' Record, of Baltimore, quotes an interesting editorial from The Cleveland Leader demonstrating that the most important fortunes of today have been made from the products of the earth. It cites those of Belt, the British millionaire, recently deceased; Senator Clark, of Montana; Cecil Rhodes, John D. Rockefeller and his brother William; Andrew Carnegie and Herr Krupp. The Leader then lays down the broad promise that "the earth is a magnificent storehouse of wealth." Whereupon, The Manufacturers' Record says:

Yes, and the great center of the earth's storehouse is the south. Think of its coal area, nearly three times as great as the combined coal fields of Great Britain, Germany and Pennsylvania; of its iron ore, far surpassing in quantity that which made the fortunes of Carnegie and Krupp; of its oil, promising to exceed in yield all that went to make the Rockefeller fortune; of its sulphur, which dominates the world's sulphur trade; of its phosphate, which holds the same unique position in the world's fertilizer industry; of its vast stores of cement-making materials, the industry which promises to rival iron and steel; of its copper and other higher forms of minerals, and then let your imagination attempt to forecast the vastness of the wealth which this mineral storehouse of the world is to turn loose in the south.

Intelligent comparisons of this nature are required to illustrate to the southern people just what illimitable resources await development in this section.

The summary does not, moreover, include manufactured or agricultural products, from both of which the south is, even now, deriving huge and increasing revenues. It refers solely to the crude material.

All that is needed is discriminating initiative, conservatism, and a dead ear to the clamor of the calamity howler and the preacher of dangerous experiments in political and industrial economy.

The One Real Issue.

(From The Columbus Enquirer-Sun.)

With but thirty-five days remaining of the gubernatorial campaign, which was begun by Mr. Hoke Smith more than a year ago at Madison, Ga., the issue of the contest is clear. We say issue because there is but one. It is of vital importance to the democratic party and to political peace in Georgia, and for that reason it is of great consequence to the material business interests and prosperity of the state.

In the development of the campaign, the only issue is a contest between democracy in Georgia and the powers that have long sought to destroy it. Tack on as many alleged issues as possible, and the real contest remains the same.

The issue is no longer one of personalities. It is solely the welfare and continued supremacy of the democracy in Georgia. Of such great importance to the business of the state is the continuance of democratic control that all other issues disappear. The supremacy in Georgia, for two years even, of the element that is bitterly inimical to corporations and entertains a mistaken dislike to the investment of money in Georgia by people of other sections, would work untold injury to the material progress and prosperity of the state. This would be true although this element might not enact a single law in two years. The possibility of hostile action by those in official control would be blighting, and the harmful effect would touch every business interest in the state.

These are cold, business facts which the business man will ponder. They do not touch politics. Politics affect them. them.

There is another feature of democratic control. The democratic party in Georgia has maintained and is maintaining white supremacy. It is maintaining white supremacy at the polls as well as in everything touching public life in the state and exercises a most potent effect in this regard in private affairs. The talk about so-called disfranchisement is but to catch votes. That's all. It is the lest hope of the populists. The negroes are disfranchised in Georgia. Everybody knows it and knows that the operations of this disfranchisement are legal.

Democracy has been assailed in its own house. It is not now a question of men, but of the supremacy of the democratic party and through it a continuance of the state's unprecedented material prosperity and development.

What are we going to do about it? Is the desire of one man who seeks to be governor and who, in order to attain it, has aligned himself with the enemies of democracy, to weigh against the continuance of democratic control and of material well being?

LABOR MEN IN POLITICS.

New York Federation Will Nominate Union Member.

New York, July 30.—The Central Federated Union, after a debate lasting throughout the afternoon and evening yesterday, decided to go into politics, in accordance with the recommendation of the affiliated unions made by President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor. The platform submitted by the executive committee, which has been under debate for two Sundays, was adopted in its entirety over the violent protests of the socialists, who made a fight to force the central federated union into committing itself to the socialist party.

The executive committee will, between now and next Sunday, consider the question of adopting additions or modifications submitted by Mr. Gompers in reference to the labor and anti-injunction planks of the platform.

Men will be nominated for office who have trade union cards, and who can be indorsed, if expedient, by both the democratic and republican parties.

The platform contains the eight-hour plank, and the other trade union features. It provides that neither the candidates of the democratic nor republican clubs will be indorsed. Trade union clubs will be formed in every assembly district, and the nominations will be made through them.

Killing of a Brakeman.

Decatur, Ala., July 30.—(Special.)—J. M. Tally, a Southern railway freight brakeman, fell under the train here this afternoon and was instantly killed. The remains will be sent to Stevenson, his home, tomorrow.

"JUST FROM GEORGIA"

A Thankful Song.

I.

Let's be thankful for the springtime, when the lilies meet the May
And a daisy in a meadow is a happy holiday!
When you see the honeysuckle half-bent over with the dew,
And the winds that wave the blossoms are a-sayin' things to you!

II.

Let's be happy in the summer, when the rivers know no rest,
But go singing—singing seaward, just their very level best!
When you hear from hidden places, the dim woods far along,
The sweet—the tinklin' tenor of the thrush's silver song.

III.

Let's be happy in the falltime, when the harvest gives its gold,
And you have just all the riches that the arms of you can hold!
In other words—dear brethren—while we're journeying heavenward here,
Let's be thankful for all seasons—just be happy all the year!

* * * * *

Not Too Ambitious.

"Does you want a crown an' a harp of gold w'en you gits ter glory?"

"No; de crown might be too heavy ter wear, an' ez fer de harp—well, I never could play music!"

* * * * *

A Song on the Way.

I.

Don't be a-sighin'
In the shadders o' the night;
Sing the song o' mornin':
"It'll soon be light!"

II.

Don't be a-sighin'
When the light—it comes,
Though the mornin' echoes
To the thunder-drums!

Some Georgia Sayings.

It looks like Happiness is on the hilltops, but sometimes, when a man reaches the heights, he looks so small the world can't recognize him.

It often happens, when Sorrow leaves us, and Joy comes again, we feel as if we had lost a friend.

It's money keeps the world moving, and, incidentally, it makes the stars dance as to the tinkling of a mandolin.

We can make this old world just what we want it; but, when it doesn't come just as we want it, the general verdict is: "It isn't much of a world after all!"

The Song of It.

I.

What if the sky be dark and drear—
Storm and sorrow near us;
Better to smile than sigh, my dear,
For Time stays not to hear us!
Tears and sighs—
But we toil along,
And out o' the heartbreak
Comes the song!

Perhaps, after all, the greatest mystery in Life is just how we manage to worry through to the end of the beautiful mystery.

The Reason.

"That new author has his hair cut once a year now."

"Yes; he writes for a magazine that pays on publication."

* * * * *

At the Last Roll Call.

What'll you care for the time an' tide
When the world rolls 'round to "the brighter side?"
The heartaches that burden the lonesome ways—
The bitter nights and the burning days—
Oh, what'll we care, if we still abide
Till the world rolls round to the brighter side?

One of the poets has a song of "The Wonderful Years to Be." But, are we not living in the wonderful years today? The fact is, some of the brethren are flying so high, they bump their heads against the stars.

* * * * *

The Beautiful Way.

The beautiful way
We are going today,
Every rude winter shall bloom like the May;
And sorrow still seems
But an echo of dreams,
While the light of Eternity over us streams,—
In that beautiful way
We are going today!

Woman.

In the light and the dark of the wonderful years;
Through valleys of gloom and dim vales of tears;
In the shadow of night, in the glory of light;
'Mid the reign of the wrong and the reign of the right—
There always awaits for duty's command,
Fair woman, whose honor has saved the land!

In the times of great sorrow when weak men mourn,
And the days are all cloudy, and the soul seems forlorn,
She gladdens the world with the sound of her voice,
And makes of true courage a wonderful choice.
And forever and ever, while men walk the sod,
Will they kneel down to worship the daughter of God!

BELL CHILD LABOR BILL PASSED BY UPPER HOUSE

House Measure Put Through by Senators With Only One Amendment.

ANTI-PASS BILL GIVEN OVERWHELMING MAJORITY

Bill of Senator Candler, Exempting College Endowments From Taxation, Was Passed—Lease of the State Road Will Be Up Today.

Big work was done yesterday by the upper house of the legislature. By unanimous viva voce vote the Bell child labor bill, passed by the house, and identically the same as the one considered favorably several weeks ago by a majority of the senate, is now practically a law, and will be one if the house accepts the amendment and the governor then signs the measure. When President West announced yesterday that the bill had passed by a vote of 27 to 0, several spectators in the gallery and in the senate lobby did not know what had been accomplished. No demonstration was manifested by any member of the upper house.

Amendment in Bill.

The clause amending the original bill is as follows:

"Section 4. Be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That on and after January 1, 1908, no child, except as heretofore provided, under 14 years of age, shall be employed or allowed to labor in or about any factory or manufacturing establishment within this state unless he or she can write his or her name and simple sentences, and shall have attended school for twelve weeks of the preceding year, six weeks of which attendance shall be consecutive; and no such child as aforesaid between the ages of 14 and 18 years shall be so employed unless such child shall have attended school for twelve weeks of the preceding year, six weeks of which attendance shall be consecutive; and at the end of each year, until such child shall have the public school age, an affidavit certifying to such attendance as is required by this section shall be furnished to the employer by the parent or guardian, or person sustaining parental relation to such child. The provisions of this section shall apply only to children entering such employment at the age of 14 years or less."

Other Provisions.

Other provisions of the bill are:

That no child under 10 years of age shall be allowed to work in a factory under any circumstances.

That no child under 12 years of age shall be permitted to work in a factory unless an orphan or with one or more parents dependent upon its labor for support.

That no child under 14 years of age shall be permitted to work in any factory between the hours of 7 p. m. and 6 a. m.

That no child under 14 years of age shall be allowed to work in a factory unless he or she can read and write his or her name in simple sentences and shall have been in school during three months of the preceding year, and shall continue to go to school three months during each year until the public school age is reached.

Anti-Pass Bill Enacted.

By a vote of 31 to 2, Senator Carswell's bill prohibiting members of the general assembly from accepting railroad passes, franks from telephone, telegraph and express companies, and simultaneously raising salaries from $4 to $7 per day, went through. Senators Hamby and Peyton voted against the measure.

It is provided that any member of the legislature, who violates the dictates of this law shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be impeached. It is also provided that each legislator shall receive 10 cents mileage. The particular difference in this and the Hall bill is that the latter applies to all state-house officials.

Court of Appeals.

Representative Perry's bill creating a court of appeals was passed by a vote of 32 to 0.

It was immediately transmitted to the house as amended, and the latter body is expected to concur in the change. Under the original bill all justices' terms would expire simultaneously. Under the amendment they will end at intervals of two, four and six years, thereby possessing a quorum at all times. The justices of the supreme court are grateful for the relief that will be given them.

Absent Members Caused Dilemma.

The life of this measure, so far as its getting through this session, was jeopardized by many hairs' breadth yesterday. It was either pass the bill yesterday and immediately transmit it to the house, or the governor would not have time in which to sign it and advertise sixty days before the approaching general election. Senator Miller was the champion of the measure in the upper house. He almost whipped the men into line. The bill was first set for the initiative yesterday morning after reading the journal. Early in the session it was seen that not enough were present to adopt it. Senator Miller moved tabling for a time. A few minutes before 1 o'clock (adjournment hour) the measure was again taken up. When the entire roll had almost been called, it seemed as if three or four would be lacking. Such would have been the case had not the sergeant at arms been sent into the lobbies, halls and cloak rooms to bring in the absent members.

Lease Bill Up Today.

Senator McHenry's bill releasing the Western and Atlantic railroad at $60,000 per month for ninety-nine years will come up this morning, the first thing as a special order. A great debate pro and con is expected. Senator Candler's bill providing for county tax assessors as a substitute for the house bill proposing state assessors will be taken up following the McHenry measure.

A meeting of the agricultural committee will be held Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock to consider the anti-bucket shop measure. According to the opinion of Chairman Hogan, the bill will receive a favorable report, and the senate will acquiesce in the report.

Governor's Appointments.

The following appointments by Governor Terrell were confirmed by the senate:

J. M. Bellah, judge county court of Chattooga, four years from March 29, 1906.

C. W. Griffin, judge city court of Eastman, four years from June 1, 1907.

W. M. Morrison, solicitor of city court of Eastman, four years from June 1, 1907.

W. A. Wootten, solicitor city court of McRae, two years from November 1, 1906.

J. S. Davis, solicitor of county court of Wilkinson, two years from July 9, 1906.

New Bills.

By Senator Bennett—To amend an act amending creation of prison commission.

By Senator Alsobrook—To regulate the running of autos in Catoosa county.

By Senator Bennett—To amend code securing to the several counties their pro rata share of common school fund.

Bills Passed By Senate.

By Mr. Singletary—To establish city court of Cairo in Gordon county.

By Mr. Lane—To authorize Monticello to extend waterworks and electric lights beyond corporate limits.

By Messrs. Blackburn, Bell and Slaton—Joint resolution to memoralize congress to make an appropriation for laying out of a national park around Atlanta.

By Senator Candler—To exempt all church and college endowments from taxation.

GOSSIP AT THE CAPITOL

NEWS reached the state house yesterday that Senator Ware, of the 37th, will hardly be able to return to the senate this session, on account of ill-health. He remained in his seat only three days, at the beginning of the session. The news was carried to the capitol yesterday by F. S. Loftin, school commissioner of Heard county.

Senator Ware is one of Georgia's old wheel-horses. He is now in his 80th year. Many times he has seen service with the state. Before the days of secession he was a member of both the senate and the house at intervals. He has hundreds of friends in Georgia, who wish him an early recovery and possession of his former splendid health.

Governor Terrell has asked Attorney General Hart to give an opinion in the matter as to whether Judge Emory Speer's habeus corpus writ in behalf of J. G. Rawlings, on Saturday last, is not a supersedeas to prevent the execution of Rawlings and Alf Moore. The two men may yet hang on the approaching Friday. The continued life of the two rests entirely with the governor—if Attorney General Hart finds that Judge Speer is acting beyond his powers. The pardon board has not yet done anything in the matter as they are waiting for the governor to take steps.

A little red mule, the mainstay of Mrs. Mary Davidson's livelihood on her farm in White county, has resulted in Redmund Rowland being convicted of simple larceny and given ten years in the pen. Mrs. Davidson is a widow. The mule was stolen from her place. The state offered $50 for apprehension of the culprit. Rowland was arrested and sentenced to serve ten years. The captor is J. W. Davis, of South Carolina, in which state Rowland was caught. The reward was yesterday forwarded to Davis.

E. B. Dye, of Memphis, was yesterday mailed $100 reward for the arrest of Jordan Neely, an Atlanta negro, whom the former arrested and returned to Atlanta. Neely was convicted of murdering his wife, and received a life sentence in the penitentiary.

Robert H. Timmons, a popular young newspaper man of Thomasville, and formerly with The Constitution and the Associated Press here, was among his old statesmen friends at the capitol yesterday. He had a warm greeting from all.

Captain Nash, of th eBarnesville Blues, and former state inspector general of Georgia militia, was at the capitol yesterday and called on Colonel Obear and Colonel Scott.

Ten decisions were handed down by the supreme court yesterday, but none of them were of any public vital interest.

It is a remarkable fact, but Gardener Gillespie, during two years, has spent only $3.50 for seed and flowers on the capitol grounds. Any person who remembers those grounds three years before Mr. Gillespie took charge can hardly realize the sights of their eyes. Where old shaggy rose bushes with no beautiful foliage or lovely yield to grace their limbs, green and most beautiful flora has sprung. The grass is always kept mowed in even plane. Mr. Gillespie secured most of those plants from lady friends over the city—a refuse which wealthy people did not care to use. He has spent only $3.50 for all this. "And yet," said a state house official, "the state is so niggardly that it will not appropriate $500 with which to beautify these grounds. Give Gillespie the $500 to use on the capitol campus and we won't know it."

Not a Game Sport.

(From The Griffin News.)

It seems that the Hon. Hoke Smith, one part Sunday school teacher, one part barroom owner and the other third politician, is not such a dead game all-round sport as he thought he was. In his point debate with Mr. Howell at Rome, Mr. Smith offered to put up $1,000 to the support of Miss Berry's school up there if Mr. Howell's statement on the North Carolina disfranchisement proposition was not wrong. Mr. Howell accepted Mr. Smith's proposition and put it in writing, with his own signature to it, but Mr. Smith refused to sign.

In their Albany debate Monday Mr. Howell denied the assertion made by Mr. Smith that the circular in regard to Mr. Smith's notorious appointment of negroes while in Cleveland's cabinet was false in any particular, let alone in every particular, and offered four separate propositions of $1,000 cash to go to Miss Berry's school if the truthfulness of the circular could not be sustained by the records, and Mr. Smith refused to accept Mr. Howell's proposition, just as he had refused to stand by his own.

He Did Rush There, Sure.

(From The Senoia Enterprise.)

There were a good many people present who remember how the Hon. Hoke Smith rushed into Governor Terrell's campaign headquarters the morning after the state primary and congratulated him upon his nomination, as though he helped to do it.

THREE IMPORTANT BILLS WERE PASSED BY HOUSE

Increase in Amount Allowed Comptroller General for Clerical Assistance Denied.

LOCAL SCHOOL TAX ACT SECURED NECESSARY VOTE

Cemetery at Marietta Accepted by the House for the State—Mr. Galloway's Bill Passed. Lieutenant Governor Bill Today.

Three important general measures were passed by the house of representatives yesterday, and one senate bill defeated by failure to receive the requisite constitutional majority of 117 votes.

The first bill taken up at the morning session was the special order of the day, the bill of Mr. Galloway, of Walton, to amend the constitution so that widows of confederate soldiers who married their soldier husbands prior to January 1, 1870, may receive a pension from the state. The bill received a bare constitutional majority of 117 votes, the last two votes being secured by rushing in two belated members at the last moment. But for the skillful parliamentary tactics of Mr. Nowell, of Walton, the bill would have gone down in defeat Friday afternoon, for lack of a constitutional majority, but he skillfully absorbed enough time to ascertain that enough members could not be secured to pass it, and then caused adjournment of the house, thus preserving the status of the bill as a special order.

The senate bill, to amend the constitution so as to increase the amount allowed the comptroller general for clerical assistance from $4,000 to $6,000 per annum, was defeated by failure to receive a constitutional majority, the bill receiving 109 affirmative votes and 20 in the negative. Mr. Hall, of Bibb, gave notice of reconsideration, and there is every probability that the bill will be reconsidered and passed after the confirmation of the journal this morning, it being conceded on every hand that this relief for the comptroller general is an imperative necessity.

At the afternoon session the house passed the bill of Mr. McMichael, of Marion, to amend the McMichael local school tax act so as to cure the defects pointed out in the recent decision of the supreme court. When the existing law is so amended, by the passage of this act by the senate, Georgia will have a school system superior to any in the southern states.

The resolution of Messrs. Green and Griffin, of Cobb, that the state accept as a gift from Ladies' Memorial Association of Marietta the confederate cemetery at that place, in which repose the remains of 3,000 confederate soldiers who fell in defense of their homes and country, loosed the flood gates of patriotic eloquence, and for more than an hour the house was entertained by speeches which stirred the pulses of the auditors.

Joe Hill Hall was twitted about making a speech in favor of the bill instead of finding it unconstitutional, but the gentleman from Bibb took the center aisle, as he always does when he is aroused, and made one of the most vigorous speeches of the occasion in support of the resolution. The speeches of Messrs. Covington of Colquitt, Alexander of DeKalb, and Nolan of Henry, were gems of patriotic eloquence. The resolution was unanimously passed.

The special order of today will be the consideration of the bill to create the new county of Ben Hill from portions of Wilcox and Irwin counties, with Fitzgerald as county seat, and there is every prospect that the substitute reported by the house committee on new counties will be passed.

It is probable that the bill of Senator Wheatley, to amend the constitution so as to create the office of lieutenant governor at a salary of $400 per annum, will be taken up tomorrow, many members of the house realizing that the bill is a much needed piece of legislation, no line of succession in the event of the governor's death being provided for. The bill must be passed in time to be advertised by the governor on Friday, so it must be considered and passed immediately.

The Morning Session.

Speaker Pro Tem. Dunbar called the house to order at 10 o'clock.

Resolutions of sympathy for Mr. Alford, of Worth, whose wife died on Saturday, were adopted on motion of Mr. Little, of Hancock.

The special order of the day, the bill of Mr. Galloway, of Walton, to amend the constitution so as to pension widows of confederate soldiers who married their soldier husbands prior to January 1, 1870, was taken up for consideration.

One amendment to the bill was offered Friday by Mr. Whitley, of Douglas, to include widows who married prior to January 1, 1875.

Mr. Newell, of Walton, spoke in support of the bill, making an earnest appeal for recognition by the state of women who bravely endured hardships and trials as great as those encountered by their soldier husbands.

Mr. Longley, of Troup, himself a confederate veteran, made an eloquent plea for the passage of the bill.

"Is there not danger," asked Mr. Hall, of Bibb, "that with our limited tax rate this bill will do an injustice to another class of pensioners now on the rolls; that widows now on the roll will have their pittance cut down?"

Mr. Kelly, of Glasscock, spoke in favor of the bill.

He was asked by Mr. Wright, of Richmond, how much money it would require to carry out the purposes of the bill, but it appeared that no one was advised how many widows of this class were living.

Mr. Mann, of Catoosa, spoke in behalf of the bill, urging that the highest duty of the state toward the survivors of the civil war was in the care of the living.

Amendments Voted Down.

An amendment offered by Mr. Kelly, of Glascock, to include widows who married prior to January 1, 1880, was defeated.

The amendment of Mr. Whitley, of Douglas, to include widows of soldiers who married prior to January 1, 1875, was lost.

Under the rules the previous question was then ordered, leaving 20 minutes to be apportioned by Mr. Green, of Cobb, to supporters of the measure.

Mr. Smith, of Greene, made a three-minute appeal for the passage of the measure for the widows of soldiers who were not able to marry during the war, but waited until their soldier sweethearts were able to marry them during the five years following the close of the war.

Mr. McMichael, of Marion, and Mr. Green, of Cobb, chairman of the committee on pensions, made similar appeals, after which the ayes and nays were called upon the first passage of the bill.

Hall Against the Bill.

When the name of Mr. Hall, of Bibb, was called he arose to explain his vote, saying:

"Georgia is the most liberal of all the southern states toward its pensioners of the civil war. The lowest pension we pay is $60 per year, while the highest Alabama pays is $30 per year. Georgia pays almost as much in pensions as all the other southern states combined.

"If we pass the bill," continued Mr. Hall, "I have no doubt but that the people will blindly follow our lead and vote for it, but we should not mislead them. Pass the bill and it will result in cutting the pensions of worthy widows now on the rolls. We do not know what the revenues of the state will be two years hence, and if you pass this bill you will cut down the pittance of worthy pensioners now on the roll. I vote no."

On voting in the affirmative Mr. Mann, of Catoosa, said if the state could anticipate the appropriation of $50,000 in 1907 and $50,000 in 1908, for a specific interest—referring to the agricultural college appropriation—it could at least anticipate that its revenues would be sufficient to do justice to the widows of the men who fought in defense of their native state.

Necessary Vote Secured.

The bill was passed by a vote of 117 to 3, the negative votes being cast by Messrs. Richardson of Houston, Overstreet of Screven, and Hall of Bibb.

When the call of the roll was completed it appeared that there were but 115 voting in the affirmative, the bill requiring a constitutional majority of 117 votes. One more vote was added by a belated member coming into the hall, after which there was a hurried scurrying to the cloak rooms and corridors to obtain one more vote.

Mr. Steed, of Carroll, asked unanimous consent to cast the vote of Mr. Russell, of Muscogee, who was in favor of the bill, but who, owing to a delayed train would not arrive in time to cast his vote for it. Mr. Calvin, of Richmond, thought it a dangerous precedent to establish, and Mr. Hall, of Bibb, entered an indignant protest against the proposition to cast a vote by proxy, so Mr. Russell's vote for the bill was not recorded.

Just when hope was about given up and the bill appeared to be defeated for the lack of one vote, Mr. Owen, of Pike, strolled into the hall and cast the required vote amid continued applause.

For Ben Hill County.

The committee on rules, Mr. Felder, of Bibb, vice chairman, submitted a report recommending that the bill to create the county of Ben Hill from portions of Wilcox and Irwin counties, with Fitzgerald as the county seat, be set down as the special continuing order for Tuesday, July 31, immediately after the confirmation of the journal. The resolution was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Steed, of Carroll, the bill of Mr. Galloway, of Walton, to amend the constitution in regard to pensions of confederate widows, was immediately transmitted to the senate.

The next special order, the bill passed by the senate to amend the constitution so as to increase the amount allowed the comptroller general for clerical assistance from $4,000 to $6,000 per annum, was taken up.

Mr. McMichael, of Marion, explained that the comptroller was now allowed the same sum for clerk hire as was allowed thirty years ago; that not a dollar of the increase would be paid the comptroller general, the volume of whose work had increase tenfold in the time stated.

Mr. Hall, of Bibb, offered an amendment to strike out the bill that section which provides that $600 of the increase shall be paid as an increase of salary to the insurance clerk, who is now paid $1,200 per annum.

"If you do that," said Mr. McMichael, "you cut off the chief clerk, who will not remain for $1,200."

"There's no necessity of putting the clerk's increase of salary in a constitutional amendment," said Mr. Hall. "The comptroller, if he is allowed the increase, can apportion the salaries of the clerks in his office."

Mr. Knight, of Berrien, asked why the increase should not be paid out of the $19,000 which was paid in annually to the comptroller as insurance commissioner, and Mr. Revill asked was it not true that the comptroller received twice as much compensation as any other state house officer.

"The increase doesn't add a dollar to the comptroller's compensation," said Mr. McMichael. "It simply gives him money for additional clerk hire and it is needed in order that the work in the comptroller's office may be properly done."

Parry Gives Statistics.

Mr. Perry, of Hall, read from the state treasurer's report a statement that $19,500 had been paid into the treasury by the comptroller.

"Is that the four-fifths," asked Mr. Alexander, of DeKalb, "which remained after the comptroller retained the the one-fifth allowed him out of these insurance fees, or is the $19,000 the gross amount?"

"I don't know about that," replied Mr. Perry.

Mr. Hall, of Bibb, thought the amount for clerical assistance should be increased, but that a provision fixing a clerk's salary should not be engrafted on the constitution.

Mr. Alexander, of DeKalb, said the increase for clerk hire was a necessity; that he was familiar with the workings of his office, and knew this to be an imperative necessity.

On the passage of the bill the ayes were 109 and the nays 20, so the bill was defeated by failure to receive the requisite constitutional majority of 117 votes.

Mr. Hall, of Bibb, gave notice that at the proper time he would move a reconsideration of the action of the house in defeating the bill.

Brinson Bill Passed.

A bill by Mr. Brinson, of Decatur, to amend section 3771 of the code, in regard to writs of certiorari, was passed by substitute, so that the code when amended will read that writs of certiorari shall be granted within thirty days from the date of the judgment sought to be reversed, and that the same shall be filed in ten days after the sanctioning of the writ. The law now permits three months for the granting of such petitions, and it has become the practice of attorneys not to file them until the last day of the ninety days after same is sanctioned.

The bill of Mr. McMichael, of Marion, to amend the local school tax act so as to cure the defects pointed out in a recent supreme court decision, and the committee substitute therefor, was read the third time, at the conclusion of which the hour of adjournment having arrived, the house adjourned to 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Afternoon Session.

The house reconvened at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Speaker Pro Tem. Dunbar presiding.

The house resumed consideration of the bill of Mr. McMichael of Marion, to amend the McMichael local school tax act, the bill and committee substitute which were read just prior to the close of the morning session.

Mr. McMichael said, in explanation of th bill:

"Among the important amendments are the following:

"It limits school district in size by providing that territory whose occupants reside further than three miles from school house shall not be included without the written petition of two-thirds of the voters residing in such territory. Under the original bill a county board of education hostile to the principle of local taxation could defeat the law by laying off districts so large that some citizens would be too far from the school house to support the measure.

"Another amendment forces all county boards of education (except a few counties acting under special laws) to lay off the counties into school districts and to have the citizens of the districts elect three reputable, intelligent citizens for trustees.

"This is done to perfect the system.

"There should be a board of trustees in every district responsible for the schools in the district. This must be done regardless of local taxation.

"Another amendment provides that all taxes, both by county and by school district, shall be collected by the county tax collector who shall receive a fixed commission of 2 1-2 per cent on the same. Heretofore the secretary and treasurer of the local board of trustees collected the taxes in local districts.

"The special and main amendment is that which seeks to provide a method—a perfect system—for assessing and collecting taxes from all railroad, telegraph, telephone and other corporate property.

"This amendment cures the defect in the original bill recently pointed out by the supreme court. All forms of property, real, personal and corporate, located and unlocated, will be reached and taxed.

"When the senate passes the bill and the governor approves it Georgia will have the best local tax school law in the south.

"For four years I have worked hard in having our constitution amended so as to give the people in rural districts the right of local self-help—the privilege of having good schools in the country where they want them.

"Now with the passage of this amendatory act the machinery is provided; the way is open, and I expect to see Georgia's schools in rural districts improve by leaps and bounds.

"I want to see our people turn back to the country, build good schools, paint their homes, beautify their yards, plant their orchards and be contented.

"The possibility of having good schools is a prerequisite to a contented life in the country."

The bill was put upon its final passage, by substitute, and passed by a vote of 107 to 3.

Marietta Confederate Cemetery.

A resolution of Messrs. Green and Griffin, of Cobb, that the state accept as a deed of gift the confederate cemetery at Marietta, was read the third time and put upon its passage.

Mr. Green explained that the resolution carried no appropriation with it; that it was merely to put in the care of the state the hallowed resting place of 3,000 confederate soldiers who fell in defense of their country. Many of these soldiers, Mr. Grten declared, had been removed from where they fell in the line of battle, from Chattanooga to Marietta, and buried in the cemetery at the state's expense ;that the Ladies' Memorial Association had lovingly cared for these graves for years, and now felt that the state should share their sacred trust with them.

"I think the resolution should carry an appropriation with it, and that is the only objection I find to it," said Mr. Mitchell, of Thomas.

Messrs. Hall, of Bibb, Stovall, of Chatham, Nolan, of Henry, Alexander, of DeKalb, and Covington, of Colquitt, made stirring and patriotic speeches extolling the unsurpassed bravery of the confederate soldiers and the women of the south of that period.

Mr. Stovall of Chatham, said that the Marietta cemetery certainly deserved recognition beyond any other in Georgia. He himself had no special interest in this matter, as he lived 300 miles away from that city, but he realized that the state of Georgia had gathered up the remains of confederate soldiers from Chickamauga to Atlanta, and had buried them at Marietta. Having done this, the state was bound to take care of this cemetery. Representatives from every county were interested in this matter, because this burial spot represented the graves of warriors of every part of the state. The cost of maintaining these graves in the future would be small. The reconstruction legislature has made an appropriation for this graveyard, and surely the general assembly could not afford to do less than the Bullock legislature had done. Just in sight of this confederate cemetery, which had been obtained by the noble women of Marietta, was the national cemetery, kept up in superb style by the general government, beautified with all that taste and skill and money could supply. The state should accept this gift from Marietta, surround the grounds with a suitable wall and devote a small sum every year in protecting and embellishing this spot as a state cemetery.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Court of Appeals Bill.

Mr. Felder, of Bibb, moved the consideration of the bill to establish a court of appeals, passed by the house and senate, to concur in the senate amendment fixing the terms of the three judges at two, four and six years.

Mr. Hall, of Bibb, objected, saying it was no use to attempt it then as it would require 117 votes to concur in the senate amendment.

Mr. Wright, of Floyd, introduced a resolution that the committee on rules should report senate bills 92, 93 and 94, to create the office of lieutenant governor, as a special order for Tuesday, July 31, that being the last day upon which a bill to amend the constitution could be passed and transmitted to the governor in time for him to advertise the proposed amendment 60 days before the lection on October 3.

Mr. Felder, of Bibb, declared that it would be folly for the committee on rules to again report these bills for a special order, the house having voted down that proposition on Friday. He moved to table the resolution, but the motion was lost.

The resolution was adopted.

Senate bill 209 was called up by Mr. Branch, of Brooks, who explained that it was an amendment to the general law so as to allow Brooks county to return from the four-day road law to the alternate road law. The bill was passed without opposition.

A resolution of Mr. Flynt, of Spalding, to accept and assent to the acceptance by the state for the use of Experiment station at Griffin, $5,000 appropriated by the government for each state having such stations, under the act of congress of March 16, 1906. The resolution was adopted.

At 5 o'clock the house adjourned to 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

New Bills in House.

The following new matter was introduced, read the first time by Reading Clerk McClatchey and referred to appropriate committees:

By Mr. Williams of Laurens—To amend constitution so as to increase terms of members of general assembly from two to four years.

By Messrs. Porter, Wright and Holden of Floyd—To amend act creating city court of Floyd.

By Mr. Holder of Jackson and Others—To amend act incorporating towns of Jug Tavern, in the counties of Jackson, Walton and Gwinnett, and reincorporate said town under the name of the city of Winder.

By Mr. Blackburn of Fulton—To pay pension of John J. Mllec.

By Mr. Rose of Upson—To authorize an election in town of Yatesville to vote upon a bond issue of $4,000.

By Mr. Whitley of Douglas—To amend the charter of Douglasville.

By Mr. Graham of Telfair—To amend act incorporating the city of Helena.

By Mr. Williams of Laurens—To amend code so as to provide trial by jury to determine pensioner's right to a pension.

IN SESSION AT ASHEVILLE.

Commercial Law League Opens Its Convention.

Asheville, N. C., July 30.—The Commercial Law League of America met in convention in this city today, with nearly 300 delegates in attendance. The executive committee met in the ballroom o the Battery Park hotel at 2 o'clock, after which an adjournment was taken until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, when the address of welcome will be made by Mayor Alf S. Barnard, of Asheville. The response will be made by ex-President F. L. Siddons, of the la wleague, after which President George Wentworth Carr will speak.

Tonight a brilliant reception and dance was given at the Battery Park hotel, which was attended by the lawyers, their wives and friends.

TOO MUCH RAIN IN WILKES.

Farmers Despondent Over the Crop Outlook.

Washington, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—The crop outlook in Wilkes and adjoining counties is decidedly gloomy since the continuous rains of the past three weeks. Many of the farmers having large cotton crops on gray soil have become dispondent and have in places abandoned their crops to the grass. The red soil seems to withstand the excessive rains better than any other variety of soil, but even the cotton and corn on the "old red hills of Georgia" are showing the deleterious effect of this plethora of moisture.

Farmers who were in the city Saturday say that there will be no chance of making more than 50 per cent of a cotton crop in Wilkes this year. They say that many of the mhace not been able to plow more than half a day per week on an average, for the past five weeks. The fruit crops have also been damaged to a large degree by the heavy rains. More rain has fallen within the past three weeks than was recorded during the entire summer of last year.

COMMITTEES OF HOUSE CONSIDER MANY BILLS

At the meeting of the house committee on constitutional amendments, held yesterday afternoon, the committee considered and favorably reported the bill of Senator Miller to amend the constitution so as to increase the terms of office of all county officers from two to four years, the law to become effective on January 1, if the amendment be ratified by the people at the general election on October 3. The bill is identical with the bill introduced in the house by Mr. Williams, of Laurens.

Mr. Davis, of Burke, called the attention of the committee to the fact that they would have to secure a recommittal of the bill of Senator Reid—senate bill No. 45, which is sought to be made a special order for today—to provide a pension for every confederate soldier who served six months in the army and was honorably discharged from the service.

"I have made an investigation of the matter since we recommended the bill," said Mr. Davis, "and I find that it will cost the state from a million and a half to three million dollars to carry out the provisions of that bill. Should it become a law, your schools would have to close and every department of the government would suffer in consequence of it."

The house committee on general judiciary, at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, indefinitely tabled two bills passed by the senate affecting legal reserve life insurance companies. There is but one such company in the state, that being the State Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Rome, and the bills were introduced in its interest. The action of the committee in tabling the bills means that they are killed for this session.

The committee at a meeting held Thursday afternoon made a favorable recommendation of the two bills, not reporting them however, and authorizing Mr. Alexander, of DeKalb, to carefully examine the provisions of the bills and report upon them if he discovered anything that should be reported to the committee. Mr. Alexander made a written report to the committee yesterday afternoon, which may be summarized in his oral report, which was:

"I think these two bills the wickedest pieces of legislation ever offered to a legislature. It is nothing but a scheme to defraud the policy holder, and I think they should be defeated. I must say, however, in perfect fairness, that the bills have the approval of the comptroller general, who is ex-officio commission of insurance."

"Let me also say," said Chairman Wright, of Richmond, "that the bills were indorsed by the agents of the old line companies, which appeared before us as fair and scientific and thoroughly safe.

"Every member of the committee, however, voted to table the bills."

One bill provides that in addition to the legal reserve which each company must deposit with the state upon commencing business, $100,000 in registered securities, any such company may each year thereafter deposit such additional securities with the comptroller general as the state of its business warrants after an examination of its affairs by the comptroller; but, after having once commenced making such additional deposits of securities in proportion to its reserve, such company must continue to do so.

The second bill amends the code so that life insurance companies incorporated in the state may invest in securities outside of the state.

The committee favorably reported a bill of Mr. Perry, of Hall, to empower the railroad commission to regulate the changes and tolls of telephone companies, and persons operating telephone lines in the state, and that a bill by Mr. Swilling, of Franklin, to require tax collectors of the several counties to place books of registration in the hands of justices of the peace and notaries public on and after January 1, said officers to receive 3 cents for each name registered.

The house committee on new counties, Mr. Hall, of Bibb, chairman, held a meeting yesterday afternoon to hear from the citizens of Monroe and Pike counties as to the proposed establishment of Phil Cook county from portions of Pike and Monroe counties, with Barnesville as the county seat. No decision was reached by the committee, which will hold another meeting this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The bill has passed the senate.

Messrs. Bowden and Walker, the members of the house from Monroe county, oppose the creation of the new county.

Some fifty citizens of both counties, about equally divided as to numbers on the question, appeared before the committee; the opponents of the creation of the new county were represented by Attorney Robert L. Berner, while Attorney J. D. Kilpatrick and an attorney from the territory from which the new county is to be created appeared for the opposite side.

A large map, showing the boundaries of the proposed new county, and just how much of the territory of each of the old counties it would absorb, was pinned to the wall, and this was used to demonstrate where certain citizens who testified lived, what distances were, etc.

Colonel Berner was interrogating a witness who lived in Monroe county if it would not have the effect, if the upper part of the slab-like portion of Monroe county were absorbed by the new county, of leaving the people of Monroe county at the mercy of the negroes living in the southern portion of the county?

"It would," replied the citizen.

"I thought you were going to disfranchise the niggers," remarked Chairman Hall, at which a general laugh went round.

There is considerable feeling between the contending parties, the evidence as to the effect of the creation of the new county will have on the old counties being very conflicting.

Representative Donald Frazer, of Liberty county, called the attention of a representative of The Constitution reporter on yesterday afternoon to a magnificent industry which is flourishing in his county, samples of the manufactured product having been recently placed on exhibition at the state museum on the third floor of the capitol.

The manufactured product in question is about the best specimen of terra cotto ever seen in the state.

"Just examine those specimens," said Mr. Frazer, "and note the uniform color and the finish, which is as smooth as marble.

"The superior of that terra cotta, a home product of Liberty county, does not exist, and it is not equaled in many places. Right here in Atlanta you have the new Termiani station covered with it, and the United States government recently made large purchases of it to send to the Panama canal. It is made by the Ludowici-Celadon Company, at the Dixie plant, Ludowici, Liberty county, and a half million or more dollars are invested in that plant, which is the pride of every citizen of the community."

SOCIETY

MISS ALICE STEELE, OF ATLANTA, WHO WAS PRESENTED AT THE BRITISH COURT IN JULY.

MRS. A. B. STEELE and Miss Alice Steele reached home Sunday afternoon after a two months' trip abroad. They were met in New York by Mr. Steele and remained there the past week, meeting with the many Atlanta people in the north at present.

While abroad Mrs. Steele and Miss Steele divided their time between London and Paris, fortunate in being in both cities at the height of the season. The brilliancy of the Paris season begins in June, when the conventional season in London is over, and continues till July 15. Then the beau monde closes the Parisian "hotel," and the summer resorts reap their harvest.

Miss Steele was one of a group of American girls who had the distinction of being presented at the British court at the second drawing room in June, Atlanta's other fair representative being Miss Edna McCandless, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. McCandless.

On the same occasion the Misses Shonts, the three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Shonts, were presented, their meeting with Miss Steele being a happy coincidence, as the eldest daughter and Miss Steele have been friends for several years, though neither knew the other was in London till they met at the palace, when all were to share in the honor of presentation to Great Britain's king and queen.

The Atlanta representatives were presented by Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, through the direct influence of President Roosevelt, whose popularity with the monarchy was manifested in the special "drawing room" which was arranged a week later that his daughter might be formally presented at court.

Although probably regarded by the average American as an honor of the moment, in the old world a presentation at the British court not only distinguishes one as eligible to the most exclusive circles in that country, but is accepted as a similar distinction in the social life of the continent.

Presentation Ceremony.

"The ceremony of presentation at court, though a very formal one, is very simple," said Miss Steele, when urged to discuss the occasion.

"Our party arrived at the palace between 9 and 10 o'clock, but it was after 11 before we entered the throne room. In the meantime I was deeply interested in the many distinguished and interesting women assembled in the ante-rooms, their gowns of elaborate fashion and ablaze with jewels, many of the latter having been worn by many generations of the same family on similar occasions.

"When finally we neared the throne room it was to pass in singly, first presenting a card with our name and the name of our sponsor, to the master of ceremonies directly within. It was handed on from one court official to another till the moment when we stood directly before the throne. Then the name was called, and a bow from the king and the queen, and these acknowledged by a bow from the one presented, was the only ceremony.

"The ladies presented walk slowly in the throne-room and are about five yards part—just the length of our trains," and Miss Steele laughingly explained here the difficulty there was in managing two trains, the court train fastened to the shoulds, and the one giving finish to the gown. "We passed from the throne room to the cagnificent dining hall beyond, where an elaborate repast was served and where the scene was a most brilliant one."

Miss Steele's court gown is a creation of one of the court dressmakers, and in its graceful lines is most becoming to her.

It is distinctly empire fashion, the material of white chiffon cloth over chiffon and satin and finished about the bottom with narrow full ruchings. The shoft corsage is covered witha a net work of crystal sequins prism shaped and appearing like so many gems. From one shoulder hung cords of crystal beads that hung to the bottom of the skirt. The sleeves were short and puffed and the court train was of white chiffon cloth veiled in tulle, scintillating with a hand-embroidery of crystal beads and sequins. Her dainty white satin slippers were embroidered in crystal and her head dress was that always worn at court—a short white veil adjusted with three white ostrich plumes.

Paris in Season.

Mrs. Steele and Miss Steele were enthusiastic in their account of the beauties and gayeties of Paris during the gay season, their acquaintance giving them the opportunity of enjoying the social life of the time.

They were entertained at "dinners," "luncheons" and "teas," the afternoon tea holding in Paris at 4 o'clock, though they last till 5 or 6.

Their account of the beautiful French homes and the artistic taste expressed by the Parisian grande dame by her home was a delight to those who heard of it. Many interesting things were told of the French women in general, who have always led fashion for women the world over. Their toilet for the street is always a careful, appropriate one, as careful as that distinguishing their graceful dressy house gowns, and in the evening there is always the complete toilet, the coiffure dressed high and madame ready for conquest.

The coiffure at present is one in which puffs prevail—puffs large and small, the French women arranging them to suit the shape of the head and face, rather than in any uniform style.

The hats are varied in style, some large, others small, but all plume-trimmed and picturesque in effect.

Only the American women wear the ultra short skirts on the street, the French woman having all her gowns long, but knowing so well how to adjust them.

The empire princesse style is seen in the street gown as well as in the more dressy ones of afternoon or evening. Silk voile is the popular material and artificial flowers and tulle boas and ruffs give finish to all smart toilets.

White kid boots are the smart thing for dressy wear and a novelty is the white shoe with the black patent leather vamp and heel.

Spend-the-Day Party.

MRS. A. P. COLES has invited a few ladies from Albany who are in the city to spend the day with her tomorrow, and the occasion will be a very happy and informal one. The ladies are her guests, Mrs. Triggs and Mrs. Tarver, Mrs. Robert Warren, Mrs. A. H. Hilsman and Mrs. Ed Wright.

Southern Women in London's Smart Set.

DURING the last two weeks in July, Mrs. Joseph Thompson, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Andrew Symonds, of Charleston, S. C., were brilliantly entertained in London. Among those giving dinners in their honor were Sir John and Lady Maxwell and Lord and Lady Garioch, of Scotland. Lord Garioch is the eldest son of Lord Mar, the oldest peer in the house of lords, and a cousin of Mrs. Symonds, in whose honor he entertained on several occasions.

They were also entertained by the Harben family, at their town house, Westbourn Terrace, Hyde park, and at their country place, Newland park.

Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Symonds returned to Paris last week, to fulfill engagements bringing them into the most distinguished social life of La Belle France.

SOCIAL LIFE AT COLLEGE.

There is no good reason why a girl should wait until she is through school before she acquires those graces of manner and conversation which fit her for a place in good society. On the contrary, it must be admitted that the acquiring of these social graces is an important part of the equipment that she should get at college. While Shorter College is by no means a "society school," in the narrow sense of the term, yet its teachers fully realize the importance of social culture, and the imparting of it, both by precept and practice, is a part of their constant work. Frequent talks on etiquette are given by the teachers, and in order to give the students an opportunity of mingling with polite society under favorable conditions, musicales and receptions are held from time to time. The dignified, cordial and self-respecting manner of the Shorter College graduate has been commented on again and again in every part of the south. Would it not be wise for you to place your daughter in such a school when you send her off? Learn more of this great college by writing the president, at Rome, Ga., and asking him to send you a copy of the new catalogue.

Hay Merchant Says He Is Victim of Discrimination.

Washington, July 30.—A complaint has been filed with the interstate commerce commission by J. R. Lucas, of East St. Louis, Ills., against the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company, in which an allegation is made that the road is violating the interstate laws. Lucas is engaged in the hay business at East St. Louis. He declares in his petition that the Louisville and Nashville railroad discriminates against him and other hay dealers in East St. Louis by exacting a rate of 2 cents per hundred pounds for hay reconsigned at East St. Louis for southeastern points. This charge, he insists, is in violation of the interstate commerce law, and he asks the commission to investigate the matter and by an order put a stop to the discrimination against East St. Louis charged in the complaint.

CALLS MEETING OF COTTON MEN

Southern Cotton Association Executive Committee Meets in September.

President Harvie Jordan has sent out a notification to the executive committee of the Southern Cotton Association to meet in Hot Springs, Ark., September 6, 7 and 8, at which meeting there will be discussed many subjects that affect the cotton interests. The official call will be given to the press today.

President Jordan expects a full attendance, as anything that affects the cotton interests is uppermost with these committmen, as they are practical planters themselves. President Jordan said it was entirely too early to even attempt to form an estimate of the crop output this year, or approximate with any near certainty the prevailing price this fall.

There are so many things that enter into these calculations, the demands, the output, the cost and the ability of the mills to place orders ahead on the basis of profitable contracts. All these things are to be considered, thus making the executive committee gathering scheduled for Hot Springs one of the most important in the history of the association.

As a further evidence that the mill men and cotton growers are getting closer together, President Jordan has been invited to address the annual meeting of the New England Cotton Manufacturers' Association in September. President Jordan may be accredited with a special message of great import to convey from the following gentlemen, constituting the executive committee of the Southern Cotton Association:

T. C. Banks, Attalla, Ala.; W. F. Vandiver, Montgomery, Ala.; F. S. Moody, Tuscaloosa, Ala.; J. W. White, Russellville, Ark.; Dr. L. E. Love, Dardanelle, Ark.; J. D. THEATERS.

An audience that was very much mystified left the Casino last night after witnessing probably the most creditable performance that has been presented at the Ponce de Leon amusement house this summer. Brindamour, the astonishing jail breaker, proved very much of a headliner, and the Andrees, with their mind reading performance added a tinge of awe to the wonder which they produced.

Brindamour, who claims to have freed himself from several hundred different prisons, including Sing Sing, capped a remarkable series of feats, by escaping from a solid steel cage in which he had been confined by a trebly reinforced lock, besides having been securely bound hand and foot. Brindamour promises, before he leaves Atlanta, to show how easy it is to escape from one of the strong cells at the police station. His performance is bona fide and alone would serve to attract the large crowds that will attend the Casino this week.

Madame Andree, in her mind reading exhibition, proved to the audience that there is such a thing as telepathy, or thought transmission. While in a trance-like condition, she described the thoughts of perhaps fifty members of the audience, and in most cases the persons in question, many of them prominent, announced that she was quite correct. She easily made several prophecies, the outcome of which will be watched with some interest.

Jessie DeWeise showed marked dexterity in the handling of several musical instruments. "Early" and "Late" gave a clever and distinctly novel comedy and singing act. Most of the fun was furnished by "Aldo" and "Armour," trick gymnasts.

EIGHT CANDIDATES QUALIFY.

Exciting Race Is Now Certain in the Contest for County Treasurer.

Two more candidates for county treasurer qualified yesterday, and now there are eight full-fledged aspirants in the field. These were W. A. Draper and P. F. Clarke.

Two more councilmanic seekers shied their castor in the ring by making good to Secretary Allen. These were M. M. Turner, in the fourth, and V. M. Barrett, in the fifth ward. F. A. Hilburn also qualified as a candidate for alderman in the fifth ward.

This closes the entries in the local contests, except one more candidate for county treasurer is still out in the cold.

The New York Floated.

Wilmington, N. C., July 30.—The Clyde liner, New York, from Wimington to New York, went ashor down the Cape Fear river, 9 miles below Wilmington, early today. She was successfully floated this afternoon after being lightened of about 308 tons of lumber, crossties and naval stores. The steamer was not damaged and will proceed after reloading.

This is not a day of small things, nor of people who are satisfied with them.

There is no such thing as standing still in these times—one must either push forward or go back.

The tendency of the day is toward magnitude, and he who does not constantly strive to enlarge his business in all possible ways is likely sooner or later to find himself with no business at all.

Growth is necessary to survival, and the only manner in which a business can be built up on a solid, permanent basis is through advertising.

If you make an article which should be used in the 750,000 homes reached weekly by THE SATURDAY EVENING POST by all means advertise it regularly in that publication. Its rates are low in proportion to its circulation and influence, and it is read by a constituency whose patronage is valuable. It is really read, too—otherwise it would not have its circulation, for the only way to get it is to buy it.

CANNED MEATS ANALYZED.

Only Four Out of 322 Samples Were Tainted.

Ottawa, July 30.—When Sidney Fisher, of the department of agriculture, asked his department to report on the conditions of the canning establishments and slaughter houses, he also arranged to have an analysis made of canned goods as offered for sale throughout the dominion. The report of the department of agriculture is not yet completed, but the analysis by the chief analysist, Thomas B. McFarland, is finished. McFarland in his report says that 322 samples were collected throughout Canada and were analyzed. This included samples from the United States as well as Canada packed meats. In only four samples of the 322 were found any evidence of decomposition. The report is therefore highly satisfactory.

By Alex Lynn.

Nashville lost yesterday's game to the Firecrackers 3 to 1, but be it said to the credit of Finn's bunch that time has wrought a wonderful change in their play. On their last appearance at Piedmont it was on the order of a school boy exhibition, and the amount of ginger given vent yesterday was remarkable. Dusty Miller is captain now, and his debut braced things up materially.

Bohannon made Nashville's only run, and the Finn second-sacker brought about a congratulation unto himself on tallying by shaking the paw of Umpire Shuster. The new umps is a relevation in the way of a judge of play, and calls balls and strikes after the manner of a bally hoo man connected with a circus side show. Buckley worked in connection with Shuster, who performed with gestures similar to that of a college youth in the throes of a commencement oration, and his stentorian tones could be distinctly heard in all parts of the grounds.

The Finnites got away with 6 hits off Doc Childs' delivery, but several of them were of the gunk variety, and a Texas Leaguer or two was counted in the total. The wild west style of hit is as good, of course, as any other, but they appear rather wind jammy.

In Nashville's first Dick Crozier saved a run by taking a line drive as it was about to imbed itself in terra firma. Dick's was a lovely bit of work and a double resulted, as Gilbert, on second, took the drive for a hit, and came off. Two men were on base when Jansing hit into the double. Doc having walked Persons, and the aspect was gloomy until the side was retired in a flash. It's strange how a run or two for the enemy at the outset spreads a silence over the patrons. How they kept working yesterday after the crimp to the visitors, as the expected tally didn't crop out.

It was the fifth inning before the locals counted, and one tally was the result of a fielder's choice and a double. Fox opened with a slash to center for one base, and Wallace forced him at second by hitting at Castro. Then Jim Archer connected for one of those two-baggers that are becoming a part of him these days, and Wallace scored from first.

Doc Childs reached first on another fielder's choice when the Finnites chased Archer on Doc's infield hit, only to lose him through Jansing's inability to squeeze the ball at third. Crozier and Jordan filled out.

Sid Smith singled in the sixth, stole second, and scored on Morse's two-bagger to left. This made the total 2, and Nashville cut the lead in half in their seventh.

Nashville Saves Shutout.

With two down Doc walked Bohannon and Castro singled by hitting one to [illegible] that was too warm for handling. Any way Sid threw to first, and threw wild at that. The bobble was good for the run, Bohannon scoring.

The one was Nashville's limit, but Atlanta scored one more in the eighth on another double and a single. Ginger Winters hit to left for two, was sacrificed to second by Sid Smith, and tallied on Morse's single to left. Morse went out in an attempted steal, and Fox flew out to center.

The first two Finnites in the ninth were easy outs, but another hit was chalked up against Doc on account of dumb work. Bohannon hit a pop over the second base line, and Jordan and Wallace got off a little Alphone-Gaston work, and the hit fell. Of course the affair couldn't be helped, for accidents are sure to crop out. The hit prolonged the sitting posture of the crowd until Castro went out from third to first.

OLSEN DEFEATS GRECIAN CHAMP.

Demetral Had No Show Against Sturdy Swede.

At last the muchly disputed Olsen-Demetral match has been decided, for Olsen won the decision over the Greek in two falls at the Peachtree Auditorium last night and took the purse over which such a squabble took place two weeks ago on account of the referee giving Olsen the match on a foul.

George Baptiste was the judge of the game last night and ran things as they should be. Baptiste stated before the bout commenced that if the strangle hold was run in he would break up the match himself and not wait on the spectators or police.

The time consumed in reaching the first fall was 12 minutes and Olsen put the Greek down by a double Nelson hold. Most of the work was done in the air for the first five minutes and once on the mat the contestants put up a fierce fight, going through the ropes several times in their efforts to gain a fall. Olsen kept fresh and the Greek was all in toward the last.

The other fall came easier for Olsen, the time being only 4 minutes and 30 seconds with the winning hold a double Nelson as in the first fall.

Christinsin, of Boston, and Gilmore, who was defeated by the Greek some weeks ago, worked in a preliminary match which was as pretty as the main event. The crowd's sympathy seemed to rest with the Boston man who is much younger than Gilmore. Christensin won in two falls, the first in 9 minutes by a bar lock hold and the second in 14 minutes.

Gilmore went at his opponent with a great deal of confidence in his own ability, but Christensin put up a game fight and succeeded in taking the money after a hard struggle.

After his match, Christinsen challenged the winner of the Olsen-Demetral match for a bout with a $500 to $1,000 purse, to take place in two weeks, which time he said he would use in training as he was out of condition

IN THE COURTS

Miss Irene Pelot, of 164 Emmet avenue, has brought suit against the Georgia Railway and Electric Company for $10,000 damages as a result of alleged carelessness upon the part of the conductor and motorman of a car upon which she was a passenger June 27. In her petition filed yesterday Miss Pelot alleges that she and her mother boarded a car on Whitehall street on the above date, and when the car came in the vicinity of her home she gave the conductor the signal to stop, which was properly complied with. She alleges that they attempted to arise for the purpose of departure from the car when suddenly and violently it started forward, throwing her heavily and violently backward against and between two revolving chairs in the front of the car, resulting in severe injuries.

Alvin E. Waldron, 6 years old, yesterday filed suit in the superior court against the Atlanta Baggage and Cab Company for $2,500, alleging in his petition that he was run over by a wagon belonging to the company on Pryor street March 31, resulting in permanent injuries.

John Lively has petitioned the superior court for $2,000 damages from the Atlanta and West Point and Central of Georgia railroads as a result of alleged injuries received in the wreck of June 6.

COTTON MARKET WAS VERY QUIET

Opening Slightly Lower in Response to Easier Cables.

Some Buying Rallied Prices on the Theory That a Bearish August Condition Report Next Friday Had Been Discounted. Market Closed Steady at the Highest.

New York, July 30.—The cotton market was very quiet today, but ruled generally steady and closed at a net advance of 1@4 points. Sales for the day were estimated at only 75,000 bales. The opening was steady, but 1@3 points lower in response to easier cables than looked for and bearish private crop reports, one of which indicated a decided improvement in the crop for the past month and the other of which reported very favorable prospects in the western belt. But there was very little pressure against the market, making it look as if the scattering long interest had been pretty well cleaned up on the decline of last week, and the market rallied shortly after the opening on covering of shorts, who may have been influenced to some extent by the detailed weather bulletins showing quite heavy precipitation in some sections of the western and central belts. Some buying was also prompted by the theory that a bearish August condition report next Friday had been discounted and that the crop was in a condition, owing to the recent rains, to be quite severely damaged by a spell of dry hot weather, should such develop in the near future. At any rate prices rallied to a shade over the closing figures of the previous day and the market closed at practically the top. Southern spot markets were unchanged to 1-16c lower.

Receipts at the ports today 6,391 bales against 5,003 last week and 15,589 last year. For the week 30,000 bales against 29,492 last week and 73,620 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 416 bales against 3,786 last year and at Houston 640 bales against 3,100 last year.

New Orleans Cotton Market.

New Orleans, July 30.—Cotton, spot closed quiet and 1-16c lower than Saturday; middling 10 5-8c. Total sales were 300 bales on spot. Futures opened steady at 1 to 13 points under Saturday's close. The market assumed a waiting attitude, due to the near approach of the government crop report. Covering by shorts kept prices up in an otherwise dull market. The close was barely steady from 2 points higher to 11 points lower than Saturday, and with prices well above the lowest.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, July 30.—Dry goods buyers are beginning to arrive from the west. Worsted goods sold freely today in men's wear and fancy woolens in women's wear lines. Silks were also taken in larger quantities.

Liverpool Cotton Market.

Liverpool, July 30, 12:30 p. m.—Cotton, spots, easier, limited demand at 4 points decline; middling uplands 6.00; sales 3,000 bales; speculation and export 1,000 receipts 2,000, of which 600 American.

Futures opened quiet.

Gibert & Clay.

New Orleans, July 30.—COTTON—Options in Liverpool closed steady and unchanged to 1 point lower, while spot transactions amounted to 5,000 bales, 4 points lower. Cables were extremely scarce and denoted a featureless market. The only feature of interest was furnished by The Times-Democrat today in their report of weather conditions affecting the growing crop for the month of July. On the whole, their advices denoted a distinct improvement, although from several Atlantic states excessive moisture was complained of, which may retard maturity. As yet, no material damage has been done by boll weevil or other crop insects, and scarcity of labor has not been greater than usual. Summed up, it was a most favorable report, and indicates a bountiful yield of cotton for the year to come. Pending the bureau report Friday next, it is probable that a continuation of the present narrow and uninteresting price changes will be witnessed, although improvements may occur from time to time before its issuance, on covering by nervous shorts, whose fears seem based on the belief that the report may contain some surprising features favorable to an advance.

Chicago, July 30.—WHEAT—Wheat was weak from the start to the finish today as a result of continued heavy hedging sales by elevator concerns and liquidation by discouraged longs. There was fair buying on the decline, but same was not of sufficient volume to absorb the offerings, and as a consequence prices were forced to a new low level. Weather throughout the northwest was again ideal for the maturing crops. Reports from South Dakota claim that harvesting will soon be under headway, which indicates an early movement of spring wheat. The situation is unchanged. Speculatively, looks as if some reaction was in order.

CORN—In view of all the circumstances, corn has held quite well. The start was weak and lower, influenced by the heavy and general rains reported from most of the sections that had previously been suffering. Some of the receiving interests reported an improvement in the country offerings of corn. Think corn should prove a purchase, especially May, on all soft spots.

OATS—Oats were weak at the outset along with other grains, and on the wet weather Saturday, which helped the prospect for feed and pasturage in the sections where it was needed. Selling at the start was mainly by receiving houses, who were hedging country purchases of cash oats. The bulk of the day's arrivals in the sample market were of new oats. Opinion on oats unchanged.

PROVISIONS were very weak, decline being mainly in lard and ribs. There was a little covering by shorts, but otherwise not much support. Think product a purchase for a turn.

New York, July 30.—STOCKS—The market showed the effect of good buying power during the early trading, but there was also evidence of a selling movement which might be called equally good or better. All of the active speculative issues were in this field of operation, and talk of a reaction which began last week, was realized to some extent in a decline from the highest levels today of from 1 to 2 points throughout the active list, though Consolidated Gas lost about 6 1-2 points as a result of the passage of the dividend by Brooklyn Union, this last incident being of some effect on the entire market. The news of the day was generally good, justified by fundamental conditions, which include the change for the better in the money market and the certainty of large crops, to say nothing of a better feeling in Europe, politically and otherwise, but in addition to these advances have been, with few exceptions, on stocks of high earning power, and this leads us to expect a continuance of the speculative movement in those directions with only such reactions as always follow the market in either direction.

Ware & Leland.

New York, July 30.—COTTON—There was nothing of last week's semiactivity in the cotton trading today, and after the opening, operations were practically suspended for a half hour or an hour at a time. Every one is waiting for the report on Friday of this week, and the occurrence of additional rains over many sections of the belt, being rather too frequent to induce short selling at the moment, the market itself seems to have reached a condition of stability where inducements to buy are no greater than those to sell. In other words, trading is left to professional element and fluctuations hardly pay for the trouble involved in buying or selling. This condition, of course, is not likely to last long, and after the monthly report is out of the way some activity is certain to develop. There was a little too much rain in many sections, and this led to some short covering. Cotton seemed to be for sale on the advance, however, and operations continued of the kind that have led to a narrow market for some weeks past. Reports on the progress of the crop show a majority of sections to be in unusually good shape for this season of the year.

Chicago, Ills., July 30.—WHEAT—There was free selling at the start, with holders very much depressed over the large receipts, although it may prove that they will not be exceeded on this year's crop, but the pressure of hedging sales by cash houses, the weakness abroad and world's shipments larger than expected, in addition to fine weather in the northwest, made for lower prices. A great deal of long wheat was thrown over, the premium on September widened out again over July and a good deal of wheat came out on stop orders. The increase in the visible was far more than anybody expected, and it brought about liquidation from influential holders. Shorts covered freely, many shrewd operators took on the futures for a reactionary movement. Rallies are due on general principles, considering the liquidation that has taken place, but on good-sized upturns we would favor selling the futures.

CORN—There was selling early by commission houses on the rains throughout Illinois, larger receipts and the break in wheat. Trade was light, but the buying appeared to be of a good character that started shorts to covering, while the decrease in the visible was also a bull help; the closing was strong, with declines more than regained and sentiment a trifle more bullish.

OATS—There was general selling early, accompanied with some liquidation due to the break in wheat, but none of the big lines were disturbed, and there was fairly good buying. Sentiment is bullish, and it may do to take on the May kind whenever weak.

PROVISIONS—The market was lower and weak on the large run of pigs, and the Cudahys were best sellers of lard and ribs. It looks as if prices would gradually work lower.

New York, July 30.—STOCKS—The stock market was strong in the morning today, with considerable manipulation to facilitate realizing, and in the afternoon an attack being made on Consolidated Gas the list weakened a little and yielded owing to the combined influence of elimination of shortage, realizing and short selling. The market will be placed in a very good technical shape again through a moderate recession, and we believe stocks should be confidently bought on a 2 or 3 point recession from the top of today. The underlying factors seem to us to be very good, and we think the large interests are determined to raise the level for distribution later. There are encouraging signs of an increasing outside interest, and the broadening of the market will no doubt do much to advertise it. We continue conservatively bullish as outlined in gossip today.

Coffee and Sugar.

New York, July 30.—Coffee: Spot Rio firm; No. 7 invoice, 8 1-2c; mild, steady.

The market for coffee futures opened firm at an advance of 10@15 points on higher European cables, reports that the Brazilian valorization bill had passed the senate, private cables from Europe, reporting that German and French bankers had over subscribed the Brazilian loan required to put the valorization scheme into effect and the official weather reports from the state of Sao Paulo reporting low temperatures in several important districts. At the initial advance here there was heavy realizing and some talk that a reaction would be no more than natural after an advance of 75 to 80 points inside of ten days or a fortnight, but afterward sagged off a partial 5 points. The market was rallied again by continued bull support and covering with the close firm and 15 to 20 points net higher, prices reaching the highest level for the bull movement in the late session. Sales for the day were reported of about 106,500 bags, including September $7.00@7.05; October $7.10; November $7.15; December $7.25@7.35; January $7.30@7.35; March $7.50@7.55; May $7.60@7.75; July $7.65@7.75.

Sugar: Raw firm; fair refining 3 1-4; centrifugal 96; test 3 3-4@3 13-16; molasses sugar 3. Refined steady; crushed 5.50; powdered 4.90; granulated 4.80; petroleum steady; refined all ports $7.65@7.70

New Orleans, July 30.—Coffee firm; invoices Rio No. 8, 8 1-2c; No. 7, 8 5-8c; No. 6, 8 7-8c; No. 4, 9 1-8c.

Sugar, steady; open kettle, 3@3 7-16; centrifugal yellow, 3 3-4@4 1-8; seconds, 2 1-8@3 1-2. Molasses, firm. Sirup, 25@30c.

WHEAT REACHED NEW LOW MARK

News Was Favorable Both Foreign and Domestic.

Extremely Liberal Receipts of Wheat at All Primary Points in United States Main Basis of Weakness—Close Was Weak Near the Bottom.

Chicago, July 30.—Enormous receipts of wheat at the principal grain centers of the United States caused a decline of over 1 cent a bushel in the price of wheat today. At the close September was down 1 1-4@1 3-8c. Corn was up 3-8c. Oats showed a decline of 1-8c. Provisions were 7 1-2 to 10c lower.

The wheat market was weak all day. At the start sentiment was influenced by liberal receipts at Chicago, the total arrivals today being more than 200 cars in excess of the amount that had been estimated on Saturday. This heavy movement induced free selling by cash houses, and as trading progressed this selling was augmented by sales of large quantities of wheat by several of the leading bulls. News in general was favorable to the bears. Foreign advices stated that weather conditions in France and the United States were favorable to harvesting operations, and reports from Russia were less pessimistic. An increase of 2,466,000 bushels in the visible supply gave additional encouragement to the bears. Extremely liberal receipts of wheat at all primary points in the United States, however, formed the main basis of weakness. Total arrivals today were 2,176,000 bushels compared with 1,646,000 bushels the same day last year. During the day there was little buying of an influential character. The greater part of the offerings were taken by shorts. New low record marks for the season were reported today as a result of the heavy selling. The close was weak. September opened 1 to 1-2c lower at 75 1-2 to 75 5-8c, sold off to 74 3-8c and closed at 74 5-8@74 3-4c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 646,600 bushels. The amount on passage decreased 792,000 bushels. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 1,097 cars, against 1,083 cars last week and 736 cars a year ago.

Because of considerable rain throughout the corn belt since Saturday, sentiment in the corn pit was bearish early in the day. For a time there was a general selling movement, which resulted in moderate declines. Later, however, the market became firm on buying brought out by reports of damage to the crop in Illinois. Cash houses and pit traders took most of the offerings. Country acceptances were said to be small, and this helped to create bullish sentiment. The market closed firm. September opened 1-4 to 1-2c lower at 50 to 50 1-4c, sold off to 49 7-8c and then advanced to 51c. The close was at 50 7-8c. Local receipts were 198 cars, with 97 contract grade.

Weakness of wheat and corn caused a slight decline in the price of oats early in the day, there being quite free selling by pit traders. Later the market steadied on buying by cash interests and commission houses with northwestern connections. Reports were received telling of small yields, and these advices tended to induce additional demand. September opened 1-4@3-8c lower at 32 to 32 1-8c, sold between 31 7-8 and 32 1-4c, and closed at 32 1-4c. Local receipts were 278 cars.

Provisions displayed considerable weakness because of a decline in the price of live hogs. A local packer was a free seller of both lard and ribs. The principal demand came from shorts. At the close September pork was off 7 1-2c at $16.95. Lard was down 10c at $8.72 1-2. Ribs were 10c lower at $9.05.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat 517 cars; corn 192 cars; oats 286 cars; hogs 22,000 head.

L. J. Anderson & Co.

New York, July 30.—COTTON—Cotton was rather firmer today, but the general trade continued dull and almost totally professional. The crop and weather news attracted the bulk of attention, but there was a diversion of sentiment regarding the probable extent of the yield, and this served to keep business rather mixed. Theorists figured that spinners are afraid to buy on account of prospects of a big yield, while the professional bears are afraid to sell on account of the fear of a short crop. Under the circumstances the market now seems to be at a standstill, and trading fluctuations are about as good as could be looked for at this time. However, it is evident that certain professionals are carrying big lines of long stuff and it is well to assume that these interests will not sell out except at a profit.

Southern Exchange.

New York, July 30.—COTTON—Last week's statistical position, which shows a rather further loss in the American visible supply of nearly 500,000 bales, good buying in Liverpool and New Orleans, also reports of heavy rains in some sections of the belt, influenced a good tone to the cotton market. There is evidence of short covering based on the crop news, which shows more rain has fallen than is good for the staple. The weather news today included rather heavy rains in the Memphis district, also Georgia and the Carolinas, with a forecast of unsettled conditions in the eastern belt. Texas showed heavy rains in the southwest and on the coast, and high temperatures. The forecast for Texas and territories is for warmer weather, some showers and cloudiness. The speculative element, as well as the public, will no doubt await the government report on Friday before assuming any definite or increased commitments. The rain in some sections and good conditions announced during the month may be offset to a certain degree by the effect of wet weather in Georgia and the Carolinas and more recently in Texas. Private information at this writing suggests considerable injury. The market should advance some in face of these conditions.

New York, July 30.—STOCKS—The stock market opened strong and fairly active this morning with transactions in all directions slightly higher than Saturday's closing. For the industrials, Smelters, Brooklyn, Sugar and the United States Steel issues were the most active and enjoyed best buying. Some of this dealing was, of course, short covering, but the most of it appears to have been for long account. The standard railroad issues were all in demand, but Reading, Baltimore and Ohio, Norfolk, Erie, Atchison, Rock Island and Southern Pacific were in favor, while Union Pacific and St. Paul barely held their own. There was no news worthy of mention; call money ruled normal. The security list has had a very good advance and a reaction is due, but on any recession we advise the purchase of stocks.

Attracted Holders of Stocks to Realize Profits.

The Slump in Consolidated Gas, Upon Suspension of Dividends, Caused Considerable Weakness, and Although There Was a Rally, the Close Was Irregular.

New York, July 30.—The speculative movement for the rise in stocks encountered some difficulties today in the amount of stock for sale to realize profits, which are made attractive by the considerable advances achieved last week. The accumulation of buying orders over a week end is always watched for by speculative holders so afford a market for absorbing profit taking sales.

The disturbing effect of the evidence of profit taking was much aggrevated by a slump in Consolidated Gas when the official announcement was made that the Brooklyn Union Gas management had determined to suspend the payment of dividends until further notice. The possible bad effect upon securities of the measures and agitation directed against corporations has been much in the mind of market operators up to the present rise in stocks, since which time it has been relegated to the background. Today's incident served to bring it forcibly forwar dagain. As Consolidated Gas and the affiliated rBooklyn company are within the group of companies regarded as being controlled by Standard Oil capital, speculative opinion was keen to read an indication of proposed policy on the part of that influential element in the action on the gas dividend. It is known that the fate of the intended passing of the Brooklyn Union Gas dividend was known among the stockholders last week. The fact that its influence on Consolidated Gas should be belated until the middle of today's stock exchange session was considered somewhat remarkable. The market did not throw off the ill-effects of the gas dividend passing, although there was some rally, but the closing was irregular.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,945,000.

CEYLON TEA

GREEN or BLACK

Is never touched by human hand after it is picked until it reaches the home. The hand-roling process used in China and Japan is uncleanly. The cleanly qualities of Ceylon tea alone should impel its use.

HOW TO MAKE IT—Use half the quantity as of other tea, fresh boiling water. Steep four or five minutes.

SHORT STORIES OF LOCAL FIELD

FLEM HENION, WHOSE HOME IS on Pratt street, in the Ryan row, was yesterday severely injured in a runaway. The lad was driving a wagon for an Auburn avenue grocery store. The horse got beyond the control of the boy and he was thrown upon the paving. His right leg was broken below the knee. He was removed to his home, 96 Ryan row, where the necessary surgical attention was rendered by Dr. Goldsmith.

GEORGE HOWARD, WHO WAS INjured in a wreck on the Southern railway near Dalton, who has been at his home on Rawson street, near Cooper street, for the past month, was upon the streets yesterday for a few hours receiving the congratulations of his friends. Howard moves on his crutches with ease and is in his usual good humor.

MRS. ARTHUR L. BRANCH, MISS Leila Branch, Miss Angeline Branch and Master Arthur L. Branch are visiting Mr. Branch's old home in Oconee county near Bishop, enjoying the pure, invigorating, country air of old Oconee. Mrs. Branch and her daughters and her son will be away for the next two or three weeks.

AS RESULT OF BEING SHOT IN the lungs, the wife of Major Crawford died yesterday morning at the Grady hospital. The negro was not tried in the recorder's court yesterday afternoon, but was taken to the county jail, where he will await indictment by the grand jury for murder.

BICYCLE OFFICER FINCHER WAS resting very comfortably at the Grady hospital Monday, his wounds proving not to be very serious, and he will be out in a few days, although the injuries may unfit him for work for a month or so.

THE LAYING OF THE CORNER stone for the new St. Paul Methouist church will take place next Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. This congregation, under the leadership of Rev. Dr. Edmondson, has made remarkable strides and is now preparing for greater achievement in a new and larger edifice at a better location than the old one. The new building will be put up at the corner of Grant and Sidney streets, and will be a handsome stone edifice.

AT THE METHODIST MINISTERS' meeting yesterday morning Dr. Charles O. Jones, D. D., the pastor of the St. Mark Methodist church, made an interesting talk on why a minister should have a vacation. He urged strongly that a minister take a vacation, that he take his wife with him, that he spend it in the right way.

MR. AND MRS. B. R. CLARK LEFT last evening for a two weks' stay in the east, visiting Washington, New York, Buffalo and other points.

REV. F. H. GAINES, PRESIDENT of Agnes Scott college, has returned from his vacation, and will remain at home until the opening of the college in September.

PURCHASED MARIETTA LOT.

Hagan & Dodd Paid $27,000 for 150 Feet Frontage Yesterday.

The Hagan & Dodd Company yesterday purchased, from John E. Murphy, 150 feet frontage on Marietta street of the old Agricultural Works property for a consideration of $27,000. The new acquition is a valuable piece of land, and has a depth of 223.85 feet, extending back to the railroad.

The King Hardware Company recently purchased a lot adjoining it, and will break ground at once for the erection of a handsome four-story ware house on their property, and, as the Hagan-Dodd people have been contemplating for some time past the addition of better ware-house facilities, it is likely they will follow suit.

They Got Same Rates.

New Orleans, La., July 30.—Announcement that New Orleans and New York will be placed on the same footing as regards coffee importing rates from Rio Janeiro was made today by the Lamport and Holt Steamship Company, the rates being 35 cents per bag to each port. Recently this steamship company announced that the rate to New Orleans would be forty cents and to New York only thirty-five cents. Since then coffee importers here have held almost daily conferences about establishing an independent steamship line and the railroads have offered rates to make up for the extra five cents against this city.

NEW HOUSES ON JUNIPER STREET.

All things considered, Juniper is probably regarded as the best residence street in the city and the opportunities to rent homes on it are very rare. When we state that we have for rent four beautiful, brand new homes on this street the rental public cannot but feel a keen interest. These are situated on the corner of Seventh street on beautiful, elevated, shady lots, facing east. Each house containing eight large, bright rooms, exclusive of two baths, linen closet, trunk room, servant's room, etc. They are equipped with all modern conveniences and their interior finish is superb. Each has a large front veranda, admirably adapted for use as a summer parlor. These homes are well built, being brick veneer and are just being just completed. Ready for occupancy about September first. See us.

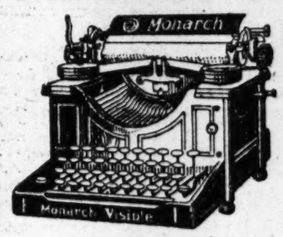
TYPEWRITER WORTH



Is surely to be measured as is the worth of other things—by performance. When this practical standard is applied, the Monarch Visible Typewriter easily leads all others. Its perfect visibility of writing and long-tested principles of construction result in better and more typewriting a day than can be produced by any other writing-machine.

PRYOR STREET

Close in on South Pryor, we have a large corner lot with some small buildings on it which are now paying about 6 per cent interest on the price of the entire property, and not more than half of the lot is improved. This property can now be sold at $125 per front foot; it can be handled so as to bring the purchaser who will subdivide it, about $200 per front foot. It is about midway between the two terminal stations, the Southern and the L. & N.

At the corner of Hunter and Madison avenue is a piece of property that it would pay you to keep your eye on; immense improvements are being made beyond this piece of property. You can buy it at a price that will make you look at your check book at once.

BIG NUMBER OF CASES IN THE POLICE COURT

RECORDER BROYLES HAD one of the largest matinees of his life yesterday morning, there being 190 cases docketed. The east end of the court room resembled several swarms of blackbirds all massed in one big flock.

Two negro clubs raided by the police were arraigned; to the palpable delectation of the audience, and the city thereby is about $700 richer in cash or its equivalent in work at the stockade.

The fines imposed by Judge Broyles were graduated from $25 and $15 to each of the club owners and their helpers respectively, to $10 and cost to the common members.

The first club raided was at 64½ Decatur street and is run by Walter Harris, his helpers being Bob Brown and Nick Stewart. The second was raided at 94½ Decatur street and was run by Bob Fields and three negro helpers.

The negroes, Harris and Fields, were fined $25 each, their five helpers $15 each and the club members $10 and cost each. These sixty-two fines netted the city $679.50, most of which were paid, some of them going to the stockade.

There were forty-nine captured in the first raid and thirteen in the second. The first crowd plead guilty, but the second batch tried to convince the judge that there was no gambling or booze being dispensed, but the evidence was overwhelming.

Judge Broyles pronounced these clubs a farce, and that it was impossible to run one orderly. Negro girls and boys under age were in the bunch and the police are keeping a sharp lookout for these Sabbath violators who are hiding behind the alleged club protection.

Several blind tiger cases were also among the Sunday catches and a plentiful supply of liquor was exhibited in court captured from one of these, consisting of beer and whisky in a large case goods boxed labeled "Raleigh Rye," but the emitting odor was convincingly plain that it was not the kind the first settlers of the Old North State used, after whom this beverage was evidently named.

One sable culprit, charged with battering down a door with an ax, said he used only his knucks, which elicited the query from "Jedge Briles" if he split wood with his knuckles also. The recorder had some ten-score cases to dispose of, the session lasting nearly to the noon hour.

BOOSEVELTS SEE GAME.

Crew of the President's Yacht Sylph Play Baseball.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 30.—President Roosevelt and his sons, Archie and Quentin, were the spectators of honor at a baseball game on Orchard lot, Sagamore Hill, today between teams representing the deck and engineer forces of the president's yacht, Sylph. The game only got as far as the third inning when a terrific downpour of rain sent the bluejackets and the distinguished audience hurrying for shelter.

The score was a tie at 3 to 3. There is great rivalry between the two teams.

FRANCE CONVEYS REGRETS.

Sorrow Expressed for the Accidental Killing of Navigator.

Paris, July 30.—The French embassy at Washington has been instructed to express the deep regrets of the French government at the killing of Lieutenant Clarence England, navigating officer of the United States cruiser Chattanooga, who was mortally wounded at Chenoa July 28 by a rifle bullet fired from the French cruiser De Petit Thours while the crew or the latter was engaged in small arms practice.

The authorities here are awaiting fuller reports before establishing the responsibility for the accident and determining on the disciplinary measures to be taken.
